Dorset school to close in June '81, parents are told

Following a closed door session, the Haliburton County Board of Education voted last Tuesday to close Dorset public school in June, 1981. The decision came despite strong pressure from Dorset area parents opposed to the move.

According to the resolution passed following the in-camera session, the matter will be reviewed after September 30 this year, when fall enrolment figures are known. If no significant increase in the student population at Dorset occurs (and none is likely), the school will be closed at the end of the year. Students would then be bussed to Irwin Memorial School in Dwight under an arrangement already worked out between the Haliburton and Muskoka Boards.

The resolution angered many of the parents who had put up a sustained fight to keep the school open. But its wording gives them the option of taking their fight to the Muskoka Board. If that board can be convinced to allow students living near Dorset to enrol at Dorset, the increase could satisfy the Haliburton board's demand for a higher pupil teacher ratio and access to special education programs at Dorset.

Approximately 25 Dorset area parents turned up at the meeting of the local board last Tuesday to repeat arguments they had put forth at a public meeting three weeks earlier.

Chief among these is that the quality of education at the school is high, and that closing it would sound a death knell for growth in the community. As well, the Dorset parents are opposed to the added time students would have to spend on buses to get to Irwin Memorial School. (Estimates vary from 11 minutes to more than half an hour).

The facilities at Irwin Memorial were also called into question by parents. Three portables are already in use at the school, and others would be needed to house the Dorset students. The school is also slated for an eventual $1.5 million expansion, an amount the Dorset parents feel could be saved if the Dorset school continued to operate.

The board's arguments in favour of the closure are based less on present costs and projected savings than on what it believes are the educational needs of its students. These include special education for students with learning disabilities, a broader curriculum with increased options, and the chance for increased contact with peers.

A particularly thorny issue throughout the closure debate was the matter of special education. Many of the Dorset parents felt the small size of the school and the increased contact between teachers and students was enough to guarantee youngsters would get the help they needed. But director of education, J.D. Hodgson disagreed.

"There are five or six or more students in that school who should be in special education class," he said. "You people think the school is alright, but it's not alright," Hodgson said there are "all kinds of people who pertaining to acid rain. But, for the past five years the laboratory has been used to research the Lakeshore Capacity Program which has ended.

"If the first program had ended that group would be sweeping up now," said Brydges, adding that the facilities are just not adequate now.

"The lab facilities are just worn out," he said. Although a definite site for the expanded lab has not been chosen, it will be in the Dorset area, Brydges said.

Brydges commented that the Dorset site was excellent for the ministry's research because of its heavy acid rain impact. It is also typical of most pre-cambrian lake areas and the tourist trade and other businesses are dependent on it.

Feasibility study underway for local maple syrup plant

Haliburton County's economic development commission will fund 25 percent of a $10,500 feasibility study for a county based central maple syrup evaporator plant. Balance of the cost will be met by the Ministry of Treasury, Economics, and Intergovernmental Affairs (TEIGA).

Woods Gordon, a Toronto based management consulting firm, will undertake the study, which is expected to take at least two months to complete.

The idea of a central maple syrup evaporator plant first surfaced at a public meeting of the commission last year. Since then, a task force of interested citizens and commissioners has been researching the project. The feasibility study is expected to complement that research by providing information on technical and financial aspects of the proposal.

Hogg said that while the cost of the study might seem high, it is not out of line with rough estimates of three or four hundred thousand dollars for a large evaporator plant or plants.

"If it's feasible, we're looking at a pretty significant operation," Hogg said, "one that would certainly be Ontario's largest and one of the larger operations in Canada."

The advice of technical experts, as well as of experienced local syrup producers, is expected to be sought in preparing the study, Hogg said.

First priority is to establish that there is an adequate supply of maple in the area which could be easily tapped. "We have some criteria established," Hogg said, "within half a mile of a useable road, at least 25 acres of stand, and at least 60 percent maple dominant or co-dominant."

Initial work completed by the commission's task force indicates that three plants handling 20,000 or more taps may be more workable and economical than one large plant to handle all the sap local stands could provide. The study is expected to outline methods of organizing and implementing the evaporator plant concept. Combined with projected financing and operating costs, the information should indicate whether one large plant or a number of smaller ones is the best option to pursue.

"That's really the most difficult part," Hogg said. "There are lots of good ideas. It's getting them implemented" that will prove to be the challenge.

Hogg said the project is "a natural for the area," because a number of local people are skilled in syrup production, and because interest is high. But there is no one syrup producing company large enough to finance a locally based project. Two or three smaller plants could draw enough local investors however, if the study shows the idea is feasible.

"I'm hopeful that it would be an entirely Haliburton County operation," Hogg said.

The plant or plants would create a number of seasonal and year round jobs, and could also serve as a major tourist attraction in conjunction with a county wide maple syrup festival, Hogg said.

A spinoff benefit of the project could be better forest management as well, something in which most local politicians are vitally interested.

Results of the study are expected to be made public at a commission meeting within the next two or three months.

Minden committee stymied on bid to purchase house

The Village of Minden may get a new library, museum and art gallery in the near future, but it won't get all three in the same building. That fact was driven home last Wednesday when members of the library/cultural centre committee came to council with a proposal that the Kirkwood house on South Water Street be considered as a site for all three functions.

The idea of purchasing the Kirkwood house and converting it for multiple uses was first presented by committee member Judy Phillips at the group's March 10 meeting. It has since drawn a body of support within the committee. But it has also been condemned as unworkable by other committee members and interested citizens. Both points of view were brought out at last Wednesday's council meeting.

Committee members Ruth Gorrie and Emma Hewitt told council the Kirkwood house could be purchased and converted for substantially less than the cost of a new library/cultural centre complex. According to estimates compiled by Phillips, the Kirkwood house could be acquired, renovated, and operated for the first year for $132,500. A feasibility study for a new complex prepared by Nicol and Johnston, architects, put the estimated cost of a new building to serve the same purpose at $178,000.

Besides the possibility of decreased costs, Gorrie told council the house had historical value, and would be a drawing card for tourists. She emphasized that placing all three functions in the same building would enable the committee to take advantage of Wintario and other grants not available for the construction of a separate library complex.

The apparent advantages of the Kirkwood home may be more than outweighed by the disadvantages however, chief among these is the nature of the house itself.

Solid waste study is out despite Environment plea

There won't be a study of solid waste management facilities and needs in Haliburton County, despite the fact that the Ministry of the Environment recommended it, and would have met half the approximately $28,000 cost.

At a meeting of county council in February, the study was rejected 13 votes to 12. Because the proposal was thought to be of major importance for the county, however, council agreed to circumvent its own authority and take the idea back to municipal councils for discussion.

County council agreed to abide by the majority decision of the local councils.

But the move did nothing to change the outcome.

Voting in favour of the study, which would have looked at county wide waste management needs for the next 20 years, were Anson, Hindon and Minden, Dysart et al, Sherborne, Livingstone and McClintock, and Stanhope councils.

Voting against the study were the Improvement District of Bicroft, Cardiff, Glamorgan, Lutterworth, Monmouth and Snowdon councils.

Municipal levies reduced

County budget up 7 percent this year

Haliburton County council plans to spend a little over $50,000 more in 1980 than it spent in 1979. But because of changes in resource equalization grants from the federal government, municipal levies are down for all but one municipality.

Last Wednesday, the county approved a 1980 budget of $744,711, up $51,084 or approximately seven percent from last year's $693,627 budget.

Municipal taxpayers will have to provide only $574,586.12 of the 1980 budget, however, compared to the $595,691 they contributed to the 1979 county budget.

There were few surprises in the budget with no significant cutbacks or planned new expenditures in any area of county responsibility. The only project to receive a boost was the Haliburton County Economic Development Commission, which saw its grant from council increase to $10,000 this year from $4,000 last year.

The Chamber of Commerce also benefitted slightly this year, as its grant was raised by $2,000 to $15,000.

But the budget provides no buffer for contributions to groups and organizations which may look for funding later in the year, a change from previous budgets.

Under general government, expenditures are expected to increase to $81,500 from last year's $71,000. Increases in salaries and bank interest charges account for the difference.

Protection to persons and property costs remain unchanged from 1979, at $2,200.

Transportation services are up in the new budget, to $388,000 from $358,000 last year. The money is earmarked for the county roads department.

Health services costs are up only slightly, to $33,400 from $31,300 last year.

Expenses under social and family services are down slightly, to $142,005 from last year's figure of $142,827.

Under recreation and cultural services, 1980 spending is expected to be $45,700, up marginally from last year's $43,600.

Planning and development costs are also up slightly, to $49,500 from $44,700 last year. The increase is accounted for by the $6000 increase in the grant to the economic development commission and the $2,000 increase in the Chamber of Commerce grant. Some other costs under the heading are down, keeping the total increase for 1980 to slightly less than $5,000.

Municipal levies are down for every municipality except Dysart et al, whose increase is marginal.

Anson, Hindon and Minden will contribute 18.2 percent of the total levy, or $104,912.83, down from its 1979 share of $111,521.54.

The Improvement District of Bicroft's share is $9,398.57, 2.02 percent of the total, down from $12,411.18 last year.

Cardiff will contribute $31,480.35 or 5.81 percent,

County can't force welfare recipients to work: Norton

The Honourable Keith Norton has told Haliburton County councillors in no uncertain terms that they cannot force able-bodied welfare recipients to perform work for senior citizens. But council doesn't intend to take the news lying down.

Instead, they have voted to write a letter to the premier of Ontario complaining about the kind of letters some of his ministers send out.

The information from the minister of community and social services came in reply to a query from council about regulations governing the use of welfare recipients for community service programs.

Welfare has been a perennial thorn in the sides of some councillors, and suggestions about work programs have surfaced a number of times both at the county and municipal levels.

In February, following a presentation from community and social services officials about Home Support and other programs, council voted to press the minister to allow welfare recipients to perform community work while still receiving benefits.

In response to the county query, the minister said there is nothing to stop municipalities from offering work to welfare recipients, but that

Fancy evaporators and plastic lines are just the thing if you want to whip up a few hundred gallons of maple syrup in a week or so. But if a gallon or two is all you need, why not get out the camp stove, tap a tree or two and give it a try? This demonstration at the Leslie Frost Centre maple syrup day Saturday proved how easy it is.

Lianne Scheffee found that spring puts some strength back into your step or into your skipping, depending on how young and energetic you are. Lianne and her friends skipped their way through recess this week.

Councillor dies in crash

A councillor for the townships of Sherborne, McClintock, and Livingstone was killed when his car hit a rock cut a week ago last Monday.

Dead is Len Staines, 44, of Oxtongue Lake.

Staines died after his car failed to stop at the intersection of Highways 60 and 11, then crossed Highway 11 and hit a rock cut.

As well as being a councillor, Staines and his wife operated White Birch Inn Ltd. in the Oxtongue Lake area and he also taught at Huntsville high school.

"He was a very dedicated councillor and community-minded," Diane Griffin, Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone clerk said Monday.

Staines was serving his first term on council after being elected in November 1978.

"All I can say is that it is a great loss to the municipality," Griffin said.

Along with his council commitments, Staines was also an active member of the community centre board for Oxtongue Lake.

Surviving are his wife Dorena and three children.

will argue that you don't need special education." But he said, no teacher who has to cope with three grades in the same classroom and constant curriculum changes thrust on them by the Ministry of Education can do the best possible job with students who may need specialized help to overcome complex learning disabilities.

"I won't accept that in order to keep Dorset school open, we'll drop special education," the director said. "We've heard ad infinitum that the school is marvelous. But it isn't marvelous for every child."

If the board had opted to keep the school open, it would have had to hire a special education teacher, adding substantially to costs and further reducing an already low pupil teacher ratio at the school. And while a low pupil teacher ratio (PTR) may seem ideal, board chairman Len Salvatori pointed out that costs per student are higher at smaller schools, and that it

When the expansion is completed it is hoped that other agencies and universities will use the lab for their research, according to Brydges.

Funding for the project will come through the Ministry of the Environment although the Ministry of Natural Resources has interests in the project.

Brydges also said more manpower will be channelled from other parts of the ministry into the study of acid rain.

Dorset is a world renowned acid rain research site, said Brydges. He added that Dorset has modern lab facilities and the field program is advanced in both the work that is being completed and also in time as the scientists have had several years experience at the site.

down from $33,355.03 last year.

Dysart's levy of $193,516.65 is up slightly from last year's $191,120.12.

Glamorgan's share is 6.13 percent or $34,665.68, down from $38,128.55 in 1979.

Lutterworth's levy is $45,771.37 or 7.25 percent of the total, down from $45,945.21 last year.

Monmouth will contribute $20,299.41 or 4.09 percent of the total, down from $25,061.02 in 1979.

Sherborne, Livingstone and McClintock's apportionment of 8.06 percent results in a levy of $48,516.56, down from $49,048 last year.

Snowdon's share is 3.81 percent or $19,538.49 compared to $22,196.91 last year. Stanhope's levy is $66,486.21, 10.83 percent of the total, down from $67,903.44 in 1979.

is unfair to pay teachers the same amount of money to teach 12 students at one school and 25 or 30 at another.

The matter appeared headed for a compromise at one point, when both the director of education and the board chairman indicated they might support the idea of leaving the Dorset school open for kindergarten to grade 4 students, and busing senior students to Dwight.

But when the board broke from committee-of-the-whole the trustees had opted to close the school entirely in June of 1981, barring a striking increase in enrolment.

Trustee Lloyd Johnson, who spoke to the Dorset delegation when the open session resumed, said "there are some members of the board who feel the school should be closed right now. But the intent of the motion is to give you the time to show the board how the school can be made viable."

If the Dorset parents are not successful in bringing in students from Muskoka to keep enrolment up, the Dorset school will close its doors for the last time in June 1981.

The weather

Spring-like weather conditions continued this week with daily high temperatures running well above freezing. Highest temperature recorded over the week was 10 C. Lowest temperature was -5 C.

Snowfall totalled 5 c.m. There was no rainfall. Snow depths are decreasing rapidly, with most open areas and those with southern exposure now bare.

Ice depths are also decreasing, although 22 inches remain on most lakes.

The weather is expected to continue mild but unsettled for the rest of the week.

Committee wants Kirkwood home

"It may be quite suitable for a gallery and a museum," said councillor Len Lonsberry, but I don't feel it's suitable for a library." He cited the small size of the downstairs rooms, and the problem of controlling entry to an upstairs that might hold the gallery or museum. Other members of the library committee, including Mae Wolfram and Irene Moore, agreed. Both pointed to the problems of supervising the numerous downstairs rooms that would have to hold the library. Wolfram also said changes in levels between the rooms could restrict access for handicapped persons.

But the biggest problem of all could prove to be a structural one. While the house is sound for family use, it would require extensive work on basement beams and joists to hold the weight of thousands of books. While the committee estimated all renovation costs at $20,000 they could climb much higher if the structure had to be strengthened to meet load bearing requirements.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt told Gorrie and Hewitt that if grants could be found to purchase the house and convert it for a gallery and museum, "that would be wonderful." But, he added, "it's a fact that we're committed to the library. I don't think we'd be willing to wait."

Council has said it plans to proceed with construction of a library facility this year if a suitable existing location cannot be found.

David Johnston, co-author of the feasibility study for the overall project, told council that the Kirkwood house would not "fit all of the criteria the committee had" in its original ideas about a library/cultural centre complex. "In many ways," he said, "purchasing the Kirkwood house would be a stopgap measure." But, he said, the government was anxious to "see some action on the project" if it is to consider supplying the committee with grants.

Johnston urged council to commit itself to build a library on the Kirkwood property if the committee does purchase it for a museum and gallery.

But council remained firm on its decision to proceed with a library as soon as possible. In the end, reeve Sinc Nesbitt urged the possibility of grants that would allow the Kirkwood house to be purchased for a museum and gallery.

New Provincial Offences Act should ease burden of court

by Sue Cooper

The new Provincial Offences Act will make responding to minor charges under the Highway Traffic Act and other provincial acts, easier and more convenient for the public and will also alleviate the overcrowding of the county according to the Ontario Attorney-General.

The act, which came into effect last Monday, offers the public "new legal rights and access to streamlined court procedures," the Honorable R. Roy McMurtry stated in a press release.

Falling under the jurisdiction of the act will be such minor infractions as speeding, failing to wear a seatbelt, violations involving vehicle safety, liquor offences and laws pertaining to the fish and game act and the operation of snowmobilers.

Apparently, the new act was designed to relieve some of the burden from the overcrowded courtrooms across the province and to make it easier for a person to understand their legal rights when faced with a minor offence.

The major difference instituted by the legislation is that the accused now has a new option when he has been charged. In the past he has had the choice of either pleading not guilty and presenting his evidence before the court, or completing the plea of guilty on the back of the ticket and sending it to the court with the fine enclosed.

Now, even if the accused does not want to fight the charge he will be allowed to explain the circumstances to the judge and possibly have the fine reduced or have the time to pay the fine extended.

The other two options available to the accused are that he may go to the court within 15 days of being charged, with no appointment, and arrange a hearing date that is convenient for both himself and the court, or he may fill in a plea of guilty and submit it to the court with the appropriate fine.

However, the accused must act on one of the options within 15 days of being charged.

If the charge is ignored, the court will assume that the accused does not want to defend himself, a conviction will be registered, and he will be fined accordingly.

In this way the ministry hopes to eliminate tens of thousands of in-absentia trials in Ontario each year.

If, for reasons beyond his control, the defendant was not present in court and a conviction was registered, he may appeal that decision to the same court.

If the judge finds the defendant's reason to be just, he has the power to eliminate that conviction and set a date for another hearing. The defendant may wish to plead not guilty or guilty with an explanation. In that case the judge would hear the circumstances which the defendant feels should lessen his fine or extend his paying period.

The new act is also expected to help in collecting fines. It allows the court to suspend a driver's licence until the fine is paid, seize and sell an individual's belongings or take deductions from his wages.

This will also help reduce costs, as people being convicted for minor offences will not be put in jail unless all other means of collecting the fine have failed.

Tickets under the new act will now be called "offence notices" and fines pertaining to minor offences will not be allowed to exceed $300.

The ministry of the attorney-general is planning one of the largest media-campaigns in its history to promote the new program.

No work-for-welfare: Norton

work could not be made a condition of the benefits. If a municipality opted to give a welfare recipient a job, the salary or wages paid could not be subsidized under the Canada Assistance Plan.

"Requiring social assistance recipients to provide services to the community as an 'obligation of voluntary service' is essentially a work-for-welfare project," Norton said. "The experience of municipal welfare jurisdictions which have tried such projects in the past has been that they are more trouble than they are worth."

The minister said the projects have had a high rate of turnover, and tools and equipment usually have to be supplied.

"Since a degree of coercion is present, the workers are often reluctant to appear for work or to work productively," Norton said.

"It has also been found that there are substantial increases in the length of time recipients are on welfare. It would be necessary to solve these practical problems before we could accept the validity of the work-for-welfare theory."

The minister said he did not "envisage any amendment to the social assistance legislation, which would be necessary to implement such projects, in the foreseeable future."

The letter angered some members of council, who quickly drafted a resolution in reply. It calls on the county clerk to send a copy of Norton's letter to Premier William Davis "and suggest that our municipalities could use a little support from Queen's Park, and that the premier's office should control the issuance of irrelevant and costly letters such as Keith Norton's."

The resolution also asks that "the simple request made by Haliburton County be explained to the premier" and that consideration be given "for a pilot project to assist senior citizens."

County to reconstruct Elephant, South Lake roads

Major reconstruction projects are slated to take place on three Haliburton County roads this summer. County Engineer Bill Obee said Monday that Kennis Lake Road, Elephant Lake Road and South Lake Road will all be improved by the county roads department this year.

As well, surfacing and paving will be carried out on a number of other county roads.

The 1980 county road budget has been set at $1,795,000.

Contract 50% of county road work, committee told

At least one Haliburton County councillor thinks the Haliburton County roads department should spend less money on equipment and manpower, and should contract out up to 50 percent of construction and maintenance work.

Stanhope deputy reeve Elgin Stouffer made the statement following a presentation from county engineer William Obee outlining 1979 county road expenditures.

Obee said the total 1979 road budget was $1,685,000. Of that amount, $397,500 was spent on local labour, $180,000 on locally hired equipment, $273,400 for local truckers' services, and $323,900 for locally bought materials. The rest of the budget was spent primarily on paving, maintenance and the operation of county owned equipment.

The 1980 budget of $1,795,000 contained provision for purchasing three new pieces of equipment, which prompted the discussion on contracting.

Stouffer said last Wednesday that "50 percent of maintenance and construction should be handled by contract and rented equipment rather than handled by permanent staff and (county) owned equipment."

He cited a recent example in Stanhope when a request had gone in to buy a $20,000 machine for road work. A similar machine had been rented from a private operator for the past three years whenever it was needed for just $3000 a year, Stouffer said.

"Personally, I can't support this much ownership," Stouffer said.

Road committee member Sinc Nesbitt disagreed strongly. "If you own it, you use it," he said. And, he added, "I don't like to be told that I'm slap happy with the public's money because I handle it the same as I would my own."

Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey, who also sits on the county's road committee, said the road department is now leaving "every dollar in Haliburton County." If work were contracted out, the money might end up going to Brampton or other centres far from the county, he said, adding that the county used to spend "vast sums" on engineering work which the roads department now does itself.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said the county roads department was formed as a business that would use subsidized dollars to help boost the local economy.

"I will never agree that we contract" and have the money "leave Haliburton County," he said.

Oxtongue bass restricted

Lake trout ranging in size from 26 to 30 inches and 14 to 22 inch smallmouth bass caught in Oxtongue Lake, McClintock Township should not be eaten, according to the latest Environment Ontario Bulletin. The lake trout which were tested for levels of mercury, PCBs, mirex and other pesticides were found unfit for consumption at this size. However, people who are eating lake trout measuring between 22 and 26 inches for a one-week period only, are limited to seven meals a week. If consumption should last for two weeks, lake trout meals should be limited to four a week, or if eating the fish for a three-week period, only three meals should be eaten per week while long-term consumers should limit themselves to three meals a month.

Smallmouth bass sized between 10 and 14 inches.

Obituary

Leonard Ellison

Funeral services were held on Tuesday for Haliburton businessman Leonard James Ellison, who died at the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton Sunday, March 30 following a lengthy illness. He was 48.

In May of 1975, he moved to Haliburton to join Lyle and Gary McKnight as partners in Haliburton Marine Limited. He was a super salesman who enjoyed meeting and talking with people, and although he was in poor health for some time, he worked right up until three weeks before his death.

The late Leonard Ellison and his family had been coming back to the Haliburton area since 1959, having owned a cottage on Koshlong Lake.

Besides being a partner in Haliburton Marine, he was the owner of the Tidman Publishing Company in Toronto and while he was living in Haliburton he hired a manager to handle the affairs at the Toronto firm.

He was interested in sports and enjoyed boating and snowmobiling. He will be sadly missed by his family and friends.

Surviving are his wife Barbara Bridge, and three sons, Randy and Wayne of Haliburton, and Michael of Toronto.

Rotarian Scott LaRue and Kinsmen president Pat Kennedy handed over cheques for $100 to minor hockey president Sid Cooper before the big challenge race at community fun night Friday at the Dysart arena. The Kinsmen lost, and had to sign the cheque at the end of the race.

County wants strategy plan included in new Planning Act

Even though the Haliburton County Planning Strategy is not a legal document, county council wants to make sure the strategy is included in the new Planning Act.

Sweeping changes to the Planning Act have been incorporated in a white paper proposal released to the public last year. If adopted, the new Planning Act would simplify the planning process and give municipalities with official plans the power to approve many planning proposals without having to take them back to the Ministry of Housing. But the white paper makes no reference to planning strategies, something council wants changed.

The county's planning strategy was approved by the Ministry of Housing last year, but unlike official plans, it is a working document rather than a legally binding one. Long-term plans call for the strategy to be incorporated into a county-wide official plan. But that cannot be done until the province completes lakeshore capacity studies on all county lakes. And current indications are that the lake-shore studies may not be completed for a number of years. In the meantime, the strategy document excludes lakeshore lands.

But county council wants to make sure the planning strategy has some status in the eyes of the Ministry of Housing. It has therefore called on the Ministry to make reference to strategy documents in the proposed new Planning Act.

The request will be forwarded to housing minister Claude Bennett.

Drivers lose control of vehicles

Damage totals $9,000 in crashes

Over $9,000 damage to vehicles resulted from three accidents last weekend, according to Minden OPP.

On Friday evening a Haliburton woman received minor injuries when she lost control of the car she was driving and hit a rock in the east ditch of Highway 519 near Haliburton.

Pamela Roberts, 26, was northbound when the accident occurred. The 1978 car sustained $2,500 damage.

A Gooderham youth was unharmed when the car he was driving rolled over last Saturday at 6:15 p.m.

Dawsey Haywood, 17, was driving south along county road three when the car went out of control and entered the west ditch.

The 1969 car received an estimated $5,000 damage.

Early Sunday morning a Haliburton man was southbound on the Harburn Road when his car hit a rock in the east ditch.

Earl Bull, 23, was charged with failing to report a collision forthwith.

His 1976 car was estimated to have $1,500 damage.

Stanhope hall grant received

Donated labour and donated materials have helped to reduce the direct taxpayers cost of the recently completed Stanhope Firefighters' Hall community centre to $8,947.

Township clerk Gerald Bain said last week that the total cost of the project was $133,693. Wintario grants, which are expected to be received within the next few weeks, total $50,135. A Ministry of Culture and Recreation grant will add another $33,435.

A total of $25,144 came to the project in the form of donated labour, while donated materials were valued at $6,524.

Cash donations of $9,508 brought the total of grants and donations to $124,746, leaving a balance of $8,947 as a direct cost to the taxpayer.

County presses to meet provincial treasurer

No industry without DREE

Haliburton County's chances of attracting light industry are almost non-existent unless the area can qualify for federal assistance under department of regional economic expansion programs.

That is the view of county council, which last Wednesday agreed to take its fight for DREE a step farther by pressing the provincial treasurer for help.

Crucial to a DREE designation for the area is statistical information about the number of unemployed and income levels in the county. Although the season unemployment rate is indisputably high, conclusive information about the overall economic picture in the county has not been compiled. Now, council wants that situation to change.

In a resolution which was unanimously approved at last Wednesday's meeting, council called on the federal government to prepare and approve "Conclusive documentation for the whole of the county to be included under the geographical region that is designated for DREE funding."

The resolution notes that council has "had discussions with our local MP regarding DREE and other funding for the last two years."

"During that time," the resolution says, "there has been considerable correspondence but no concrete decisions have been made regarding Haliburton's situation."

Before the general election in 1979, department official David Graham had agreed to attend a meeting of county council and discuss the programs that are or might be available for the county.

The meeting was cancelled however, and, according to the resolution, "there have been two federal elections and we still have not had any results from the federal government."

Now, council wants a committee of county councillors to meet with provincial treasurer Frank Millar "to discuss any assistance the province can lend the county to become part of the DREE area."

Dysart reeve Murray Fearrey, who introduced the resolution, termed the winning of DREE help for the county as "the most important issue (in the county) in my time."

"We're destined to no growth, or practically no growth, unless we get DREE. Without that funding we're beat. Why would anybody locate an industry in Haliburton County?"

Fearrey cited low interest loans and grants to support worker salaries while a business becomes established as two of the benefits of DREE. The benefits induce industries to locate in areas where they can take advantage of them.

A copy of the county resolution will be sent to MP Bill Scott and to MPP John Eakins.

Impact of theme park to be meeting topic

Will the big, new multi-million dollar Disneyland-type theme park now under construction at Maple near Toronto be a blessing or a threat to tourism in Haliburton?

Next Wednesday, tourist-oriented business people in the area will have a first-hand opportunity to investigate the implications of the new Canada Wonderland theme park attraction between Toronto and Barrie and its potential impact on Tourism in the Haliburton Highlands. On April 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the PineStone Inn, Mike Filey, Public Relations Manager for Canada Wonderland will present comprehensive details of the development to date in a combined talk and film presentation on the concept and marketing potential of this major tourist attraction.

"We're talking about a $108-million project," Filey told Haliburton Chamber of Commerce representatives, who are hosting the gathering at the PineStone, "and as a private venture, we certainly expect a healthy return on investment."

"Canada Wonderland will be a main tourist attraction in North America - bigger than Disneyland but not quite the size of Disney World in Florida," Filey pointed out. "It's aimed at families and kids from eight to 80, and was well researched before being launched." "All indications are that it will alter the entire tourism pattern in southern Ontario and will draw mammoth crowds of new travellers to a hub that's less than two hours from Haliburton."

The developers of Canada Wonderland feel it can lure 2,000,000 people into the vicinity of the park between May and August every year. It is anticipated that these 2,000,000 people will spend two days out of the week in the park.

"That means a brand new market of vacationers probably with sore feet and aching muscles looking for relaxation and fun," John Hogg was quick to point out. "Certainly worth thinking about."

"On the other side of the coin," he continued, "Canada Wonderland is a potential deterrent to Haliburton's normal flow of cottagers and vacationers. The very proximity which makes it a potential source of new tourists also makes it a potential distraction for people and their guests from Haliburton."

"Aggressive tourism areas like Muskoka and Huronia are already planning how they will cope with this new tourist attraction," the Chamber president said. "I'm sure Haliburton business people will not want to take a back seat in this regard. We really expect a strong turnout to next Wednesday's meeting with Mike Filey at the PineStone."

The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Most people use metal spiles to tap maple trees for sap, but a cedar spile will do just as well, as Canada's Indians knew long before the white men arrived. The sweet sap was boiled off by placing hot rocks in a hollow log. The method was demonstrated at the Frost Centre Saturday.

Putting an end to junk (?) mail

Haliburton county council has a junk mail problem. As ordinary citizens, of course, they're not immune to the flyers and leaflets and free offers that find their way into just about every mailbox. But the junk mail the county is receiving is of another order altogether. It's emanating from Queen's Park, and more often than not, it comes on the letterhead of one minister or another. But how can that be? Does the provincial government send out junk mail as a matter of course. Does it sell its points of view like soap or the latest low cavity toothpaste? Well, as it turns out, it's all in how you read it, or more properly, in how you don't.

The latest round of government junk mail came in the form of a letter from community and social services minister Keith Norton. Haliburton county council thinks people receiving welfare should be put to work helping senior citizens. And they decided to call on the minister to allow them to do so. A letter was neatly drafted and sent to Norton's attention. And, not surprisingly, he sent back a polite, three page reply saying why it could not be done. Not a soap ad or a toothpaste coupon were anywhere to be found in the envelope. But the county considered it junk mail nonetheless.

The reason, of course, is that the letter did not say what the county hoped it would say. There may indeed be some merit in forcing able bodied welfare recipients to shovel snow or perform other task to help out seniors. There are many of them who would probably welcome the chance to do so. But under the law, you cannot force a person to work for welfare and threaten to cut off their benefits if they don't. Rightly or wrongly, that is how the system works. And rightly, that is what the minister, in clear and concise language, replied.

But county council is fed up with junk mail of Keith Norton's kind. To combat the problem, it has fired off a resolution to the premier calling on him to proofread (well, at least control) the "irrelevant and costly" letters his ministers send out.

Perhaps the premier will take it to heart. And as a cost cutting measure, he and his ministers will send no more letters to Haliburton county council. That may not help the county move ahead, but it sure would solve the junk mail problem.

Gallery a place worth visiting

There are precious few opportunities for cultural enrichment in Haliburton County. To experience the pleasures of symphony concerts, theatrical productions, ballet or jazz, one must trek to the city. The same has always been true of fine art. To browse among paintings or sculpture, one had to head for Toronto or other large centres. Now, that has begun to change. But the change may well be going unnoticed. And it should not. Haliburton's Rails' End Station Gallery may not rival the Art Gallery of Ontario for sheer size or numbers of works it can accommodate. But when it comes to the personal experience that is the essence of art appreciation, Haliburton's Gallery is in a class of its own. The works it displays can delight, enthrall, uplift, or simply rid the mind of all its mundane baggage, however briefly. A visit to the gallery can provide moments of pure appreciation of works which try to do nothing more complicated than please the eye and tease the mind.

If you have never spent five minutes in the presence of good art, you owe it to yourself to give it a try. Expect nothing but a few minutes of idleness. Go prepared to sit and relax. What you will probably find is a tranquility that's hard to experience in any other way.

The Rails' End Gallery is one of the most important projects that has ever been completed in this community. But because it houses art, it has not yet touched the lives of most of the county's people. That fact was brought dramatically home last Saturday, when the artists whose works it currently displays were on hand to meet the public. Some of those artists have national and even international reputations, and their works are stunning. Yet very few people turned up. And that is a shame. For without the support of the public, the Gallery will have a difficult time mounting such high quality shows again. Its very survival will depend on the public's willingness to patronize it. And there is no question that the Gallery deserves not only to survive, but to flourish.

For nowhere else in Haliburton County is there a place where art can work its magic on those who take the time to sit, to look and to savour.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

As a student of Queen's University I would like to express my strong concerns about the government's policies on post-secondary education in this province. Ontario now stands eighth out of ten provinces in terms of funding per full-time enrollee; this position is unacceptable, and the government must take positive measures to rectify the situation.

The increase of 7.2% funding to the universities is not enough, and is much lower than that recommended by the Ontario Council on University Affairs. The policy of underfunding instituted by the government is causing declining library resources, larger classes and less laboratory equipment. The university community, the staff, faculty and students are suffering because of this policy. The future of society in economic, technological and social terms is being threatened by the decline of the post-secondary system's quality.

Access to universities is not being handled adequately by the OSAP program. Cost of living allowances are much too low ($65.00 a week) as the Financial Assistance Administrators of Ontario have clearly stated. Many other problems with grant eligibility periods, the base level for parental contributions, independent status, and others show that the OSAP program must be changed in order to reflect the reality of today's situation. In 1978, Dr. Harry Parrot, then Minister of Colleges and Universities, promised a complete review of the program. Now, in 1980, Dr. Bette Stephenson, the present minister, is delaying substantial changes to the current program while such an investigation takes place. The logic of this, given the reality of tuition increases for two successive years, seems quite inconsistent.

The quality and accessibility of post-secondary education are important principles which we must all fight for. I hope that you share my concerns.

Marnie Blair,

President,
Women's Residence Council,
Queen's University

To the Editor:

I would like to pass on some information which, I believe, is important to everyone.

My husband and I registered for the heart-saver course in Lindsay at Sir Sandford College. The fee was only $15.00 each and the course was for six hours. This is the simplest course for the average individual and I just wanted to stress how important it is for everyone to learn the C.P.R. technique which can save a life. From the moment a person becomes unconscious and their heart stops due to a heart attack, drug overdose, swimming accident, etc. until the ambulance arrives, if you take this simple course, you quite possibly can save this person's life.

I stress the importance of it as our instructor was telling us how disinterested the public seems to be. For example, eight people enrolled for the class we were in and only six people came. It was great for us - more personal instruction - but the instructor came all the way from Peterborough through a snow storm as training people in this technique was that vital and that important to him.

We live in an area quite a distance from a hospital and we felt it would be valuable for us to learn C.P.R. Both of us hope a situation will never arise where we need to use this life-saving technique and we also know we need to take this course every few months to keep ourselves refreshed on the methods used but at least we know we could help someone instead of being completely helpless and possibly doing the wrong thing.

I don't have a name or number for people to contact but the courses are available in most areas and the Ontario Heart Foundation would be able to put you in touch with the proper party to contact.

I hope more individuals will learn this life-saving technique. Everyone can and should.

Mrs. Shirley North,
Cobocook, Ontario

To the Editor:

Presumably those who left markers on the ice will remove same now that the snowmobile season is over.

Also the ardent fishermen should have the courtesy to remove items left at fishing sites.

Yours truly,
G.C. Springer,
Haliburton, Ontario

To the Editor:

For many years, I have approached my good friends and associates to request help in supporting the work of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children on behalf of children with physical handicaps. I have never been let down. I want you to know how much I have always appreciated your continued interest and understanding of the accomplishments that must be made in the field of children's rehabilitation. For the most part, it has been a long and uphill battle, but progress is now being achieved, at a more rapid pace than ever before, and the future looks bright.

You have helped to make wonderful things happen. The annual Snowarama has developed into a tremendous fund-raising event that this year raised $800,000 in Ontario. The largest proceeds ever raised this way to my knowledge, in the world. This amount will undoubtedly help to augment the Society's target for 1980, to raise $6,000,000 to help physically handicapped children in this province.

By your excellent media coverage demonstrating faith in our efforts, the goals will be reached. That is, to provide disabled children with the opportunity to reach their fullest potential and take their rightful place in the community.

I wish to thank at this time, not only you in the media but all snowmobilers, Ontario Snowmobile Industry Association, Molson's Brewery (Ontario)

Feir Play

by

Creighton Feir

As the monkey said when the lawn mower ran over its tail, "It won't be long now." That's right, it won't be long now before the Stanley Cup playoffs get underway. This is the trophy they have been playing so hard to receive all year long. This is also that time of the year when all hockey fans make sure that their television is in good working order. Many people who don't watch the games on television during the regular season turn into hockey nuts when Stanley Cup Playoff time rolls around. These fans know that this is the time of the year when the chips are down, the stakes are high and that every player will be giving his all every minute of the game as in most cases they know that there's no tomorrow. It could be a long shot and since I have always been a strong supporter of the Chicago Black Hawks ever since the days of Hull and Mikita I can't see any reason to change now. It looks as if the Hawks who are in fifth place in the overall standing are going to be in the best position to give it a good shot that they have found themselves in for the past few seasons. Looking down the road, one would have to be a fool to think that it's not going to end up with a battle between the Montreal Canadiens and the front running Philadelphia Flyers. We won't have long to wait.

Let's all hope and pray that the tracks are never taken up between Lindsay and Haliburton. During the past several years and still from time to time the rumor keeps cropping up that they are going to lift up the tracks. If the tracks were taken up it would be a very bad mistake and we must face the fact that with the way the economy locally has been we can't afford to lose anything here in Haliburton County especially the railroad tracks. The railroad has provided a great service to the area in the past and it's going to be a handy thing to have around in the future. With the price of gasoline and the energy shortage this railway line between Haliburton and Lindsay could be put back into service at very short notice. We have heard some people remark that it would cost too much money to bring the train back in due to the bridge repairs at Kinmount. We also understand that these repairs will cost $75,000. In this day and age, that's a very small amount and one that's not worth worrying about. We have had several people from other centres tell us especially in the Toronto area that if trains ran from Toronto to Haliburton, they would certainly be on it. As I have said before with the high price of gasoline, the price of cars and the headache of facing heavy traffic especially on the weekends it would be a pleasure to board the train in Toronto and head for Haliburton. You can think what you want, but I believe you will see the day that the train is back in operation pulling into Haliburton. All aboard!

Some local citizens have been telling us that when they start the re-development of the downtown area in Haliburton they should make sure that they put lights on both sides of the main street, instead of just on one side which is the case at present. We have to agree that street lights just on one side is just not enough to light it up the way it should be. Ontario Hydro have been busy putting up new lights in this area and they are definitely an improvement and much brighter. It would be worth council's time to take a drive down to Kirkfield and see the way in which that village is lit up.

Wayne Perkins, camp director at Camp Wanakita on Koshong Lake proved to be a very interesting speaker when he spoke and had a slide presentation on this Haliburton boys and girls camp at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. Wayne's most interesting talk gave all the members present a great insight on this YMCA camp with its wonderful program and beautiful buildings. The slide presentation afforded everyone present with the opportunity to see the camp in operation not only in the summer but during the winter months. Camp Wanakita is now winterized and has wonderful winter facilities.

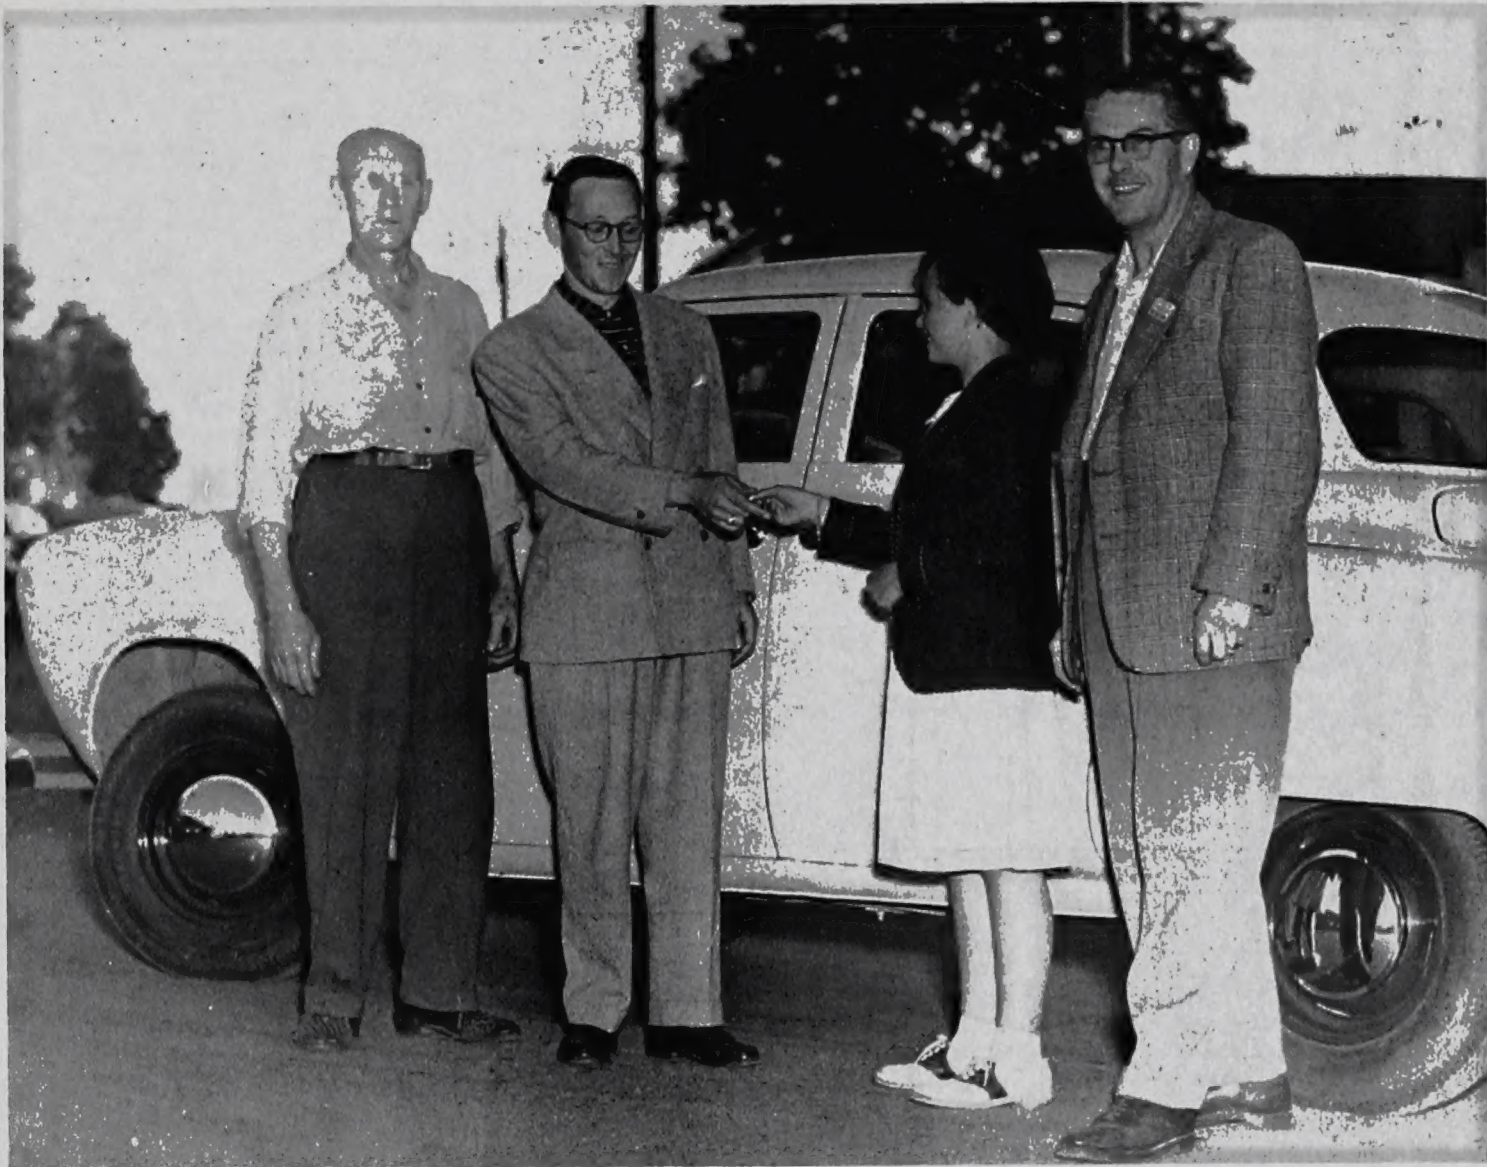

At times we have to wonder if democracy is falling apart. If one just stops and thinks for a moment of what is happening all around us, we have to wonder where we are going and just where it is all going to end. We seem to be at the crossroads where, in most cases, many of our young people seem to be lost; they are living for today and to heck with tomorrow. There seems to be a great deal of unrest in this old world of ours and it seems to nobody, no matter where they may live, are satisfied with anything. We are constantly being faced with protests against the establishment and we seem to have come to the point when it's dog eat dog. We don't have to look around Canada to see all the problems of the day we have many right in our own communities. One of the answers seems to be that we must have more discipline in today's society. We just can't let everything go on without crying halt and see if we can't come up with some solutions. And did you know that teachers across the province have established secret codes they can use to summon help when they are physically threatened. Yes, without a doubt, things are out of control and it's up to us as responsible citizens to try and do something about it. Democracy, in my opinion, is the best system in the world but we have to make sure that it works.

May we remind you of the benefit dance for Grenville Stamp to be held at the Legion Hall in Haliburton this Saturday evening, April 5, $10.00 per couple. Live band and a buffet.

May we remind you that if you haven't already sent in your donation to the Easter Seal Campaign, please do so right away. Possibly it has been an oversight, so get out your pink envelope and return it today. Please give to Easter Seals, crippled kids really need your help. Remember today, an arm and a leg costs an arm and a leg.

I have been approached on several occasions by citizens of Haliburton to mention the fact that they can't understand why the Ministry of Transportation and Communications can't do a better job of keeping the build-up of ice and snow off of the two sidewalks on each side of the bridge over the Drag River on Maple Avenue. I don't think that it was cleaned off all winter.

Pic of the Past

Our thanks this week go out to Vince Connaughan, president of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, who submitted the above photo taken in 1951 showing Diane Holland presenting George M. Foster of Huntsville, Ontario, with the keys to the 1951 Studebaker he won in the car draw at the Haliburton Rotary Carnival that summer. The gentleman on the left is Ed Hunter, the local Studebaker dealer at that time, who sold the car to the Rotary Club for the draw. On the extreme right is Harold Black who was president of the Haliburton Rotary Club in 1951-52. George Foster, a Huntsville Rotarian, says he remembers the event as though it was yesterday and claims that he bought only one ticket at 25 cents. Diane Holland sold the winning ticket. Mr. Foster has presented the picture to the local Rotary Club to be placed in their archives.

Report from Queen's Park

by MPP John Eakins

I am pleased that a contract has been awarded for Highways 48, 503 and 505 in Victoria County. This contract is for resurfacing of Highway 48, 1.6 km. west of Highway 503, easterly 6.1 km. and intersection improvement at Highway 505; Highway 505 Grass Creek Culvert, 0.2 km. The urban section through Kirkfield will be reconstructed with curb and gutter and paved shoulders. Work on this project is scheduled to begin in May 1980 with completion set for mid-summer, 1980. The contract has been awarded to Royel Paving Limited of Lindsay, at a cost of $474,920.

Provincial Agencies

Finally the Ontario Cabinet has approved measures forcing provincial agencies to justify their existence over a three-year period starting in 1982. Last year 36 such agencies were disbanded or amalgamated with others because they were either inactive or judged useless. Some 21 agencies will be reviewed starting in 1982 and the chairman of the review committee anticipates that "a majority of them will disappear". Those under review in 1982 will include the Ontario Economic Council, the Status of Women Council, the Council on Special Education and the Advisory Committee on Confederation.

Other Developments at Queen's Park

The Minister of Correctional Services has announced that starting this summer, inmates will be ploughing land, harvesting crops and canning fresh produce - and in some cases raising livestock - at the province's detention and correction centres.

In response to opposition questions, the Premier has indicated that he will not commit the province to independent action on mortgage interest rates. Ontario's superintendent of insurance has said he will probe a life insurance company's demands that applicants authorize it to gather medical information from any source, even neighbours.

A coalition of social service organizations may urge voters to reject the Davis government at the polls unless major changes are made in Ontario's billion-dollar-a-year program to aid old people. A coalition spokesman is the author of a report urging the government to implement its stated policy of providing services to the elderly in their own homes rather than in institutions. The group wanted to present its agenda of reforms to Premier William Davis, but had to settle for a talk with three cabinet ministers in which they extracted a commitment to extend OHIP-funded, chronic home care from its present pilot project status to a province-wide program by 1982.

Toronto Sportsmen Show

After a grueling ten days at the Toronto show we have just a week to put things in order before going on holidays. This column, therefore, will once again be missing from its regular spot for the next few weeks.

The Sportsmen Show was once again considered successful although attendance was slightly down from previous years. Over 4,000 of our new directories were distributed to interested visitors along with about 700 Building Trades Directories to families who said they owned or were buying property in the county.

The participation of the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts provided our booth with a "touch of class" that was admired by many and they were successful in selling over $400 worth of tickets on the magnificent "Rails' End Quilt" that was on display.

There are always a large number of helping hands that we rely on to provide a good display and we would like to thank all those that participated and helped. In particular a big thanks goes to Went Hogg (Went's Marina) for once again transporting our display booth down and back.

Minden Wild Water Preserve

Congratulations are certainly in order for Roger Parsons who has been the prime moving force behind bringing this major facility to the county. The Minden Wild Water Park was envisaged by Roger and his associates over two years ago and he has put a tremendous amount of volunteer time and effort into it to bring it to the present point of reality. More than once the project was considered beyond hope for many of its other supporters but Roger persisted - and now his dreams are being realized.

The plans have met some resistance from cottagers and residents until they fully understand what is happening. The esthetics of the area will be improved, existing parking problems that have existed will be solved, and Minden will be put on the map as having the best white-water facility of its kind on this continent. The organizers are bending over backwards to work with us, and there is no doubt that businesses in the area will benefit. It's about time we showed them our support.

Seminar - Meeting - April 9th

On April 9 at the PineStone Inn, two very important events are taking place. Why not make a day of it and take in both of them.

From 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. the F.B.D.B. is hosting a seminar on marketing which will assist business people in assessing their market, creating a plan to market to it and implementing a

Bill Smiley

Well, admit it, sourpuss. It's been a great winter, hasn't it? January, unbelievable. February cold but clear. About half the amount of snow of an average Canadian winter.

My snow removal bill is about half what it was during a normal winter. And that makes me wonder. What are all those towns and cities and villages who put aside in their budgets so much for snow removal and disposal going to do with all the money they haven't spent?

I'll tell you. They'll switch it to some other department, and spend it on something equally as non-producing as snow removal: so much for straightening bent parking meters; an allotment to the fire department for three new checkerboards; a little dispensation to the Parks Board to repair vandalism; a portion to the Board of Works to pave over some grass for new parking meters; expenses for a councillor to go to a convention in Hawaii to study racism. You name it, but it won't be a refund to the taxpayer.

By the time this appears in print, the March break will be over. This annual affair, which used to be known as the Easter holidays, has grown into a gross exercise in lowering our national balance of trade with the U.S.

It involves hundreds of thousands of Canadians, parents and children, students, school teachers, in a massive airlift to the south, where they spend several millions of our sick Canadian dollars getting a sunburn.

Somebody should put a stop to it. It's a waste of energy, with all that oil and gas going up in smoke. It's a waste of money. And it's a waste of time.

Maybe you think I'm just jealous, when all the teachers, and half the students, tell me they're off to Jamaica, Hawaii, Florida, the Barbados, Texas, for their one-week break. I am.

But I'll be dilled if I'm going to spend a thousand bucks, and another on my wife, to line up in confused air terminals with all the other peasants, fly down south at some ungodly hour, stay in some hotel that has about as much style and class as a McDonald's - hamburger joint, be ripped off for everything I eat and drink, and come home broke and exhausted and peeling.

Not when I can do the same thing for about two dollars, four months later, and not be burned, frustrated, or even tired, by just driving out to the beach, opening the thermos, gently brown, swim in clean water, and come home relaxed.

People who can't cope with March by staying in Canada for the March break should be picked up at the border, locked into box-cars and sent up to James Bay.

And that's exactly what I contemplate, as I write. Instead of heading for the sunny south, and a sybaritic week pretending I'm rich and elegant and swinging, I'm planning to head for the frosty north, and a frigid week pretending I'm poor, tough, and hardy. It takes a lot more guts than flying to Barbados, bolting rum punches, and getting stung on the foot by a sea urchin.

I'll be training to Moosonee, getting rum punches, and getting squeezed all over by human urchins. My grandboys.

It's only a twenty-four hour ride on the Polar Express, and I love trains. I can sleep and read and contemplate the inanities of the human race far better than on one of those great cattle cars they call jumbos.

There's a four-hour stop in Cochrane, and I doubt that I'll have to line up to see the sights there. I won't have to stand in a sweaty line to catch the last four, five or six-hour train ride to Moosonee.

Instead of having to fight for a taxi, I'll be met at the station by a snowmobile, ineptly driven by my daughter. I'll whistle out to her house, teeth chattering, not with cold, but fear, as we circumnavigate tractor trailers, trucks, and Indians under the influence.

I'll be greeted by bone-rattling hugs, and mis-aimed kisses by two little blonde boys who love the north, and haven't had a cold since they went up there. (When they lived in the city, they had eternal runny noses and chest barks.)

I'll pull out some presents and be the centre of attention, which is good for the soul of a grandad.

I'll have the odd skool with the neighbours and venture into town to see whether it's true that the Hudson Bay Company is gouging the natives, as it has since the time it was formed by Prince Rupert in the seventeenth century.

If it's a clear day, I'll holler "Hello, boy!" across the 300 miles that separate my daughter and my brother, who is up in Northern Quebec helping organize the greatest hydro project in the world.

My only concern is what I should wear, son Hugh having taking off with the last of my thermal underwear. Where does one purchase fleecelined panty-hose?

And when I came back, I'll smirk and sneer and snigger at my colleagues with the tan

Seven area teams compete in Glen Dart

Haliburton Tri County Bantams in action

Bantams take 5-1 series lead as Beaverton squad defaults

Haliburton's Tri-County Bantams took a 5-1 points lead in their series against Beaverton Saturday, on the strength of a win during the Glen Dart tournament. And the local squad was to head for Beaverton Monday night needing only a tie to win the six point series.

Both teams came out fired up for Saturday's game at the Dysart arena, and for a while, it looked like it might have gone either way. But before the local squad had proved to be the better team in more ways than one.

Haliburton came out skating hard from the opening face-off and pressed into the Beaverton end. The pressure paid off quickly as Mike Baker beat the Beaverton netminder at 1:08, assisted by Marla MacNaull and Mario DiPalo.

But Beaverton came back quickly, peppering Tim Deremo with a number of difficult shots before one got by at the 2:37 mark of the period.

The play was for the most part end to end throughout the rest of the period, but the score remained tied 1-1 at the opening of the second.

Haliburton was unable to capitalize on a number of excellent opportunities in the early minutes of the second frame, and at 9:45, it was Beaverton putting one home to take the lead.

But Haliburton staved tough and at 13:24, Mike Baker brought the team back to a tie on an unassisted goal. In the third, Haliburton pressed for the lead, and got it early, when John Teljeur found the mark, assisted by Mario DiPalo, at 14:30. Less than six minutes later, the Haliburton squad stretched their lead to two on a goal by Jim Bird at 8:31. He was assisted by Charlie Teljeur.

Port Hope beats Huntsville to win tyke championship

Port Hope took the championship while Bracebridge was named the consolation champion in the Minden Tyke Tournament last Saturday. Port Hope won the Pritchard's Electric Trophy along with a keeper trophy, gold medallions and tournament pins. For their showing, team members from Bracebridge received the Austin's Esso Trophy, a keeper trophy, silver medallions and tournament pins.

At the beginning of the day, Minden met with Huntsville who beat the home team 3-2.

Huntsville started off the scoring in the first period and managed to keep Minden shut out throughout the period.

With only one minute out of the second period, Aaron Hie scored for Minden, with the assistance of Oliver Greer and Dave Lee.

But Huntsville took over the lead again with a goal at the end of the period. Minden came back in the third with another mark from Hie with Lee's help.

Huntsville took the game with another goal to move into the semi-finals.

Bracebridge and Baltimore met in the next game of the day. Baltimore shut out its competitor 8-0.

Haliburton and Port Hope then locked horns but the mighty Port Hope team beat Haliburton 14-0.

Port Hope then moved on to play Baltimore whom they also kept scoreless throughout the period.

Haliburton's Brownson scores 4 goals in Novice No. 2 win

Seven teams from neighbouring communities came out last weekend to meet Haliburton in the 28th annual Glen Dart Tournament.

The tournament is a yearly event memorializing a well-known local hockey player and recreation director for Dysart et al. Glen Dart played for the Huskies for many years and also tried out for the now defunct Toronto Native Sons in the Junior 'A' league. Dart died in 1951 at age 31.

Coming to compete against the Haliburton teams were two teams from Minden, two Wilberforce teams, Lakefield, Beaverton and Little Britain.

Starting off the tournament on Saturday the Minden Novices met with Haliburton and defeated the home team 4-0.

Both teams were kept at bay in the first period and for most of the second until Sheldon Stevenson scored for Minden.

Minden's next goal came in the early part of the third with Joey Boyle helping Scott Russell to put it in the net.

Only 46 seconds later, Minden came back for another goal with Boyle and Russell assisting Stevenson.

Minden waited less than four minutes before putting another one in Haliburton's net. This time Wyatt Nesbitt helped Russell find the mark.

With Kent Taylor in goal for Minden, the team managed to keep Haliburton shut out.

The next game saw Haliburton come down hard as the Wilberforce Atoms beat the home team 8-3.

Haliburton started off well, scoring the first goal about halfway through the first period as Sheldon Perry and Wallace Wood assisted Ben Packard.

Wilberforce came back quickly with a goal from Barry Donaher.

Only 16 seconds later, however, Haliburton scored once again with Jeff Smith and Ray Gervais assisting Mike Doherty.

Haliburton seemed to be on a hot streak as little more than 30 seconds passed before Packard and Doherty teamed up to help Glen Scheffee score.

But then Wilberforce took the puck and just wouldn't let Haliburton have it back long enough to score.

The visitors rounded out the first period with two more goals. The first saw Brian Hopwood assisting Steve Stoughton and Hopwood put the other one in on his own.

Neither team could find the mark in the second period but as the third period rolled around Wilberforce got its second win.

They pulled ahead of Haliburton with a fast moving five-goal onslaught which lasted throughout the period.

Early in the third John Paul Detlor, assisted by Brian Baker, scored, followed closely by another goal from Hopwood.

Minutes later, Hopwood again made an unassisted play to put the puck in goal.

Colin Hunter assisted Baker on the next goal and the final goal at the six second mark was a team effort from Hopwood and Detlor to Ronnie Townsend who made the score.

In the third game of the day, Haliburton Novice #2 won a devastating 14-6 victory over Lakefield.

Haliburton started off in the lead in the first period with the team's first goal scored by Dean Brownson, assisted by Darren Byers.

Both teams then moved into high gear with Lakefield scoring only 10 seconds later on a play by Christine Collins and Ryan Taylor.

by Tristan Embury with the help of Trevor Ireland. The second mark came from Derek Millage unassisted.

Haliburton marked up another goal from Goulet with the help of Brownson. This was followed by another score by Craig Bain assisted by Brownson and Goulet.

Lakefield managed another goal a few minutes later when Taylor and Travis Kellett assisted Collins.

Brownson made a quick comeback for Haliburton as he scored unassisted some 12 seconds later.

Then Brownson assisted Waller in scoring another goal for the home team.

Lakefield got in one final goal as Collins and Millage assisted Embury.

With only one minute remaining to play, Haliburton scored once again as Brohm assisted Brownson.

The next game of the tournament saw Haliburton Pee-wee #1 meet up with Wilberforce, and take the game 3-1.

Haliburton started off the scoring with a goal from Eoin Ross, assisted by Ian Cooper.

The next goal came from Wilberforce on a play from Ron Mintz and Brian Baker.

The two teams were tied as Tournament ends hockey season

But Haliburton bounced back. Only 22 seconds had gone by when Byers assisted Paul Goulet on a goal.

Haliburton kept Lakefield down in the second period as the home team went on to score six goals.

Shawn Perrin and Brownson assisted Goulet on the first goal only 30 seconds into the period.

Brian Waller and Brownson assisted Byers on the next goal and Brownson tallied the third goal unassisted.

The next goal came off the sticks of Perrin and Goulet and Brownson wound up the period with two more unassisted shots.

The third period started with a change for Haliburton as Darren Byers took over the goal for Ed Brohm.

Once again Haliburton was quick on the start with the first goal as Brownson assisted Goulet.

Lakefield finally managed to get a score in with a goal by Ryan Taylor, assisted by Max Taylor and Rick McIlwain.

At this point, Lakefield seemed to be coming back with two more goals within 15 seconds. The first was scored they went into the second period but Haliburton was soon in the lead with an unassisted goal from Cooper.

Tony Hartin and Mariah Smith teamed up to assist Dennis McKee on the final goal of the game for Haliburton.

Both teams remained scoreless throughout the third period.

The next game saw Haliburton down Beaverton 4-2 in a Tri-County Bantam clash. For more information on the game see story on this page.

The final game of the day saw Little Britain play off against Haliburton Pee-wee #2 but the visitors were beaten 4-2.

The first goal was put in by Eoin Finn with the help of Mike Brohm, to mark up Haliburton's first point.

Little Britain made the next score with an unassisted goal by Al Moore.

In the second period, Haliburton got another goal compliments of Finn assisted by Brohm and Ian Cooper.

Haliburton's next goal was unassisted from Finn again.

Little Britain got another one by the home team's goalie on an unassisted shot by Moore.

In the third period, Haliburton managed to get the only goal as Brohm and Cooper teamed up again to help Finn put the puck in.

On Sunday, the Haliburton and Minden Tykes wound up the tournament as the visitors won 4-1.

In the first period, Minden got the first goal as Jay Hughes and Randy Bull assisted Aaron Hie on the play.

Haliburton tied up the score with a goal from Jeff Stamp with the help of Jason Turner and Jason Casey.

In the second period Minden got the only goal with an effort from Derek Greer and Bull to set up Hie again.

With the third period more than half over, Minden came up with its next goal as Bull assisted by Dave Lee and Philip Boyle put the puck by the goaltender.

Also in championship semi-final play Huntsville came up against Lakefield and won a championship match with a 2-0 win.

In the championship game Port Hope downed Huntsville in yet another shut out. The champions chalked up an 8-0 score.

Huntsville's Pat Rinaldis was named the best goalie of the tournament for his performance in this game. Even though Port Hope scored eight times, Rinaldis stopped six breakaways and a total of 50 shots.

In consolation championship semi-finals, Bracebridge managed a 4-0 win over Haliburton to move into the consolation final against Minden.

Minden was not even allowed a score in the game as Bracebridge took the title 3-0.

The visitors scored twice in the first period and once in the third.

Even though Huntsville lost the championship match, team members were given silver 50 cent pieces donated by Minden coach Carl Hie, a hockey memories book and tournament pins.

Minden team members were given the same prizes for their play in the consolation match.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W. O. Anderson

The ladies again were busy making pillows - Ada Denholm, Hazel Parish, Maude Weston, Lila Simmons (stuffer) and Flossie Burk guided by Lillian Hague, Amelia Sibley and Pearl Sholer, directed by Pat burk. The day yielded eight pillows started and four more started. It would seem we have started something.

Do you know that we have no way of knowing we are kooks, unless someone tells us?

Someone told us that they could not understand that gobbledygook about symbiosis so we told them we would repeat it as we thought we heard on quirks and quarks, and follow with a possible reason. "The human entity is a symbiosis with a marvelously orchestrated bacterial counterpart." Possible reason - "Harmony means health, discord means illness or death sudden or lingering, microscopic, piecemeal or total." Those two quotations add up to either a thesis or a cliché. If thesis it lacks a comprehensive dissertation, if a cliché it lacks nothing. Homes like these in which we live are filled with the discords of the past.

We are apprehensive about all the protests we hear about against nuclear power. Surely people should trust our nuclear physicists at least as much as people have trusted our physicians and surgeons for centuries.

Bible study was held Tuesday morning by June Devolin, assisted by Jane Johnston depicting Jesus' first triumphal entry into Jerusalem with his gathering laying palm fronds in his path while he in turn gave them comfort and guidance. Prayers are offered and said on behalf of the sick. We were reminded that Easter is nearly upon us.

Forest management in Ontario still thinks in the primitive terms of burning forest debris rather than have it gathered along with mill wastes and made into pellets to sell to home owners for wood fuel. To do this would be a start in providing an alternate source for electric power. We feel we must repeat often and often that there is no need for any forest fires. Surely our leading authorities must know that. It should be made a rule in Ontario that if there is any forest waste lying around there must be no unemployment and our forests would be fire repellent in the hottest days of summer. Now we see forest fire kindling debris outside our windows, and mill waste galore around mills as we pass on outings, day after day, winter and summer and we wonder.

Mug and spice racks are to be produced here in quantity in the leadership of Charlie Stormer commencing as from Wednesdays when a start was made on the first by Norman Titus, Ray Smith and Ron Pearson, Harold Thorlakson, Edward McKelvie, Bob Barry, Lila Simmons, Jim Allen and Jack Pollard were manufacturing the picture plaques. Extendicare is becoming a pretty busy place.

In plant culture we have two dozen button box Zinnias, that dwarf variety that in the last two years has bloomed so profusely. Then we have 1 1/2 dozen Salvia, the seeds of which we salvaged at Jim Cooper's when we were invited for a visit and seaplane rides. So far only a dozen Mignonette have been with more to come including oddies of mixed petunias. It is very interesting to find that one or two or even three year seed will germinate. Planted but not transplanted are moss roses and nemesis. A dozen flowering maples are in the final stage before being set out, cuttings that we hope will flower this year.

Thursday again was the day we met with the Haliburton senior citizens, a neat hundred as it turned out, in the Dysart Community Centre for another pot luck dinner greeted by Emil Nieman, the club president. Grace was said by Ken Stewart at Emil's request. The dinner was sumptuous by loading our own plates and there was plenty and more. This club has agreed to put on a whing ding party for everyone soon. Thanks for the invitation, senior citizens of Haliburton.

We feel that there is no need for any promiscuity on these TV soapbox opera, and regard, Thursday's "Edge of Night" episode as crude, lewd and rude. If they cannot keep this vulgarity to themselves it should be eliminated. Bruno Gerusi with his pizza ad is good and really a show by himself with his amazing diction especially in a Canadian of Italian origin. We welcomed Nancy Picard and Peggy Neville for another songfest in the evening and we feel very fortunate that they think us so worthwhile. Thanks again kind friends.

Rev. John Smith of Lakeside Baptist Church conducted the devotional period, Friday morning, on the theme of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem amidst joyful adoration. Jesus was stern telling what was to follow, that despite the condemnation that would follow they must keep faith.

In the evening Doreen Ray called for a group of in her van to provide our transport to the spaghetti dinner in the Dysart Community Centre in the auspices of St. Anthony's Church and to provide some assistance for the Haliburton minor hockey teams. The dinner was marvellous and the coffee the best in Haliburton. We like the second cup the best, and may refer to this dinner in a little more detail later, or even in next week's.

Saturday morning, Pat Burk bussed quite a number of us to the Leslie M. Frost, Natural Resources Centre near Dorset for the maple syrup and information day - helpers Kay Barnes, Karen and of course, maple syrup which we deliciously sampled at dinner in the form of sausage and pancakes with maple syrup on the tables in three litre pitchers. Coffee was good and all we wanted, self serve. No one should miss it next year.

Lieut. Ron Mailman of the Haliburton Salvation Army, SM Francis and officer wife Alma Noble, Amelia Sibley and Lillian Hague, again paid us a visit Sunday. An added treat were Cindy Sedore, Diane Rowbotham and Penny Whitmore, little girls of Sally Ann, who nicely sang for us and assisted Lieut. Mailman.

The week began on Monday with fun and fitness. Everyone was in good voice and humour and enjoyed the session.

Later in the afternoon the ladies made their way to crafts. They are very busy these days sewing knitted squares together to form cushions for use in our home.

Tuesday morning, Rev. Smith of Haliburton Lakeside Baptist Church held the service in the chapel. Agnes Taylor played the organ for the hymns.

We viewed two very interesting movies after lunch. The first called Sea Borne was filmed in Newfoundland. We saw how the shipping industry is the livelihood of the people there. The most modern ships in the world are made at Port Sydney. Thanks to Canadian National Marine Services, life is improving for the residents of this province.

The second film was entitled "Quilts". It was all about a competition sponsored by Canada Packers. We saw the many designs and colour combinations, of the different quilts, and were amazed at the workmanship involved in handcrafting a quilt. It was interesting to note that Mrs. Margaret Carr from Bobcaygeon won the honour of the best quilt on display.

Wednesday, we had quite a good number turn out to fun and fitness. Jessie Walter was the winner at roll the ball. This was a first for Jessie. We also had Carrie Drysdale and Geraldine McNeil join in the fun. Thursday we also had a good time, when Fern Donnelly joined us. We always look forward to having Fern join us every Thursday morning for fun and fitness.

The Anglican Church Women of Maple Lake, made the birthday tea party, a very special event. They served a delicious variety of goodies and sandwiches and presented the guests of honour with a lovely decorated birthday cake. Our special birthday people this month were Irene Burns, Violet Young, Pearl Bowron, Catherine Teasdale, Alfred Richardson, Bruce Simms, Ralph Daniel and Hugh Kernohan.

Friday was a day to remember. Joe Nicholson brought his equipment, and sang many old songs that our residents remembered well. In the last half of his program he did his "crazy" act. He had us almost rolling on the floor in laughter, especially when he sang about Blue Eyes. The residents said they laughed until they cried, and were holding their sides when they left the auditorium. Thankyou so much Joe for taking time from your busy schedule to entertain us, and we'll be waiting with great anticipation for your next visit.

Spring can mean a lot of different things. To some, it's a chance to get rid of winter clothes. To others, a chance to get out the golf clubs and try a few practice swings. Some don't jog in suits and puff off into the distance to wear off some of winter's rubber tire. But to youngsters spring time is a time to get out the skipping ropes and get rid of some of the energy that builds up in the classroom every day. These youngsters at Victoria Street school were jumping high Monday as sunshine and warm temperatures made the playground bare.

Dinner Theatre at Its Finest
Friday evening witnessed Canadian comedy talent at its best.

The comedy team of "Sears and Switzer" carried the dinner crowd along with laughter as they put forth an evening of "snappy", fast moving, witty music and dialogue.

If you have not had the opportunity to attend one of the Guild's Dinner Theatre Shows, I heartily encourage you to do so at the next opportunity. You will most definitely ask yourself why you hadn't done so before.

Gallery Evening
Meet the Artists

The current Gallery show, "Ed Matthews and Friends", a nature printing exhibit, is a breathtaking look at our best Canadian wildlife and naturalist artists' works.

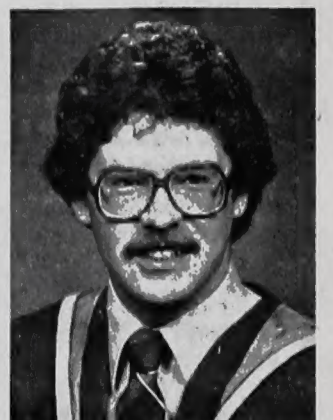

On Saturday evening, the Gallery was opened from 4 until 8 p.m. with the hopes that many of our local artists and enthusiasts would take this opportunity to meet and talk with these gifted men and women. Are we so complacent that we take what these talented people have to offer as well as the hard work it took to obtain a show of this calibre for our Gallery, for granted? I sincerely hope not. Keeping in mind the artist community is a relatively small one, our support for these shows as well as the responsibility to the craftspeople who consent to appear along with their works, is essential. Let's show them that we appreciate their time and effort in appearing at our Gallery by also appearing. Thankyou.

Toy Maker Opens Fine Woodworking Show

Paul Simpson will open the first show of local craftsmen on Friday, April 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Many of our local wood-working craftsmen will be on hand to talk to you about their work. Demonstrations will be held throughout the three-week show on a multitude of fine woodworking items.

David Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hicks of Lochlin, a Diploma in Business Administration with a major in marketing from Ryerson Polytechnical Institute in Toronto. He is presently employed with Libby, McNeil and Libby of Canada Ltd. as marketing assistant.

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Today, Saturday, March 22, is cold again with lots of that white stuff out there again. I thought for sure after the beautiful day we had last Thursday, we'd be out getting the gardens ready any time now but March, being the unpredictable month it is, has apparently decided to give us another slap. Oh well, hang in there, like death and taxes, spring certainly can't be far away now...

After yesterday's rains I heard of lots of problems due to flooding, etc. Some of the area roads are completely closed, basements flooded, roofs springing leaks and the post office in Fenelon Falls had to close down as the small creek at the back of the building overflowed its banks and caused severe flooding to the extent that sandbags had to be used in some places. Port Hope was isolated and I had a call from Toronto on the evening of March 21, when it was still pouring rain here, in Kinmount, it had turned to snow there. Like I said, grit your teeth, spring is just around the corner.

Thank you to Yvonne Dyer who had such nice words to say re: a previous column I'd written referring to her brother-in-law, Richard, who had been here on a visit to see the snow from England. Richard should have been in Kinmount this past week. He'd have seen a real combination of weather changes. I feel very flattered Richard took the column home and framed it.

About 30 to 40 souls braved the storms to show up at the Kinmount Legion, Friday night for the weekly bingo. Just one man arrived to play bingo, as he said, "to see how it felt to be on the other side of the table." We sure enjoyed your company, Father Hart, even if your chips were "too heavy" for you. It may have been beginner's luck but he did get to call "bingo" 2 or 3 times.

Today's recipe is taken from my book of Harbour Grace recipes and is a tasty treat: Caramel Squares - First part: 1/2 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 egg yolks, 1 tsp. baking powder, pinch of salt, 1 tsp. vanilla. Second part: 2 egg whites, beaten stiffly, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, 1 1/4 cups chopped nuts. Method: Spread first mixture on bottom of pan. On top of this spread part two mixture and bake for 20 minutes in moderate oven. Cut when cool.

A tablespoon of vinegar beaten into a cup of evaporated milk makes a pretty good substitute for sour cream to be used in baked potatoes.

On Saturday, March 22, five cross country skiers, four adults and a child of ten years, set off from Crystal Pier Marina at one p.m. They were to meet friends at Trapper Inn for dinner. When they hadn't arrived by 7 p.m. the friends alerted Crystal Pier. After borrowing two snowmobiles, Ken and Scott Young travelled the Five Point Trail looking for them. They found the skis abandoned halfway onto the trail. The weather conditions at that time had made the grounds almost impossible to travel and the skis had been icing and slushing up. The skiers arrived at Trappers Inn at 8:45 p.m. with the Youngs arriving at 9 p.m. It was a very happy reunion I'm told.

Heinz and Margaret Int-Veen were up for the weekend and were pleased to see the Taylors, the Youngs, Marg Morrow and Alf Angus. Alf had walked the school house trail to be with the Int-Veens. The crossline between Galway Road and Crystal Lake Road had suffered a severe washout, necessitating its closing.

The school bus and the mail had to be rerouted this past week and many thanks go to Ralph Pearson and Kathryn Smith for bringing out the Galway high school students.

Wm. D. Moss was in Toronto last week attending a seminar. Lorrie Moss went with him and they stayed at the home of Bill's sister, Bonnie and Jim Walker, in Weston. Master Jason, spent some time at our house.

Mary L. Pyke and John of Norland, both have had colds this week. Get well soon.

Kathy and Marie Maguire of Kinmount spent their March break with their aunt, Sally Hill, at Bay Ridges and on Tuesday they went to watch a practice session of the Toronto Maple Leafs. Later they attended a Leaf's luncheon and talked with a number of the players who gave the girls lots of autographs and photos to bring home. King Clancy took them on a special tour of the Gardens and they said he was a good old man. Pam Gordon, who is secretary of the Leafs, entertained our young ladies after their tour, in her office. I'm sure they'll long remember this March break.

Joe Maguire has been home three weeks from hospital, after his serious accident and I hear he is now getting out for short walks. Good for you, Joe, keep up the good work. Won't be long 'til you're good as new.

Ruth Menard, Kinmount, is home, nicely tanned but with a cold, from her trip to Florida. Ruth said the best part of the trip was just lying in the sun and swimming in the pool. Happy days!

Ida Young, our local mail carrier received this little poem from one of the rural routers, recently: Through the rain and the snow and the sleet, We'll try to keep our mailbox neat!

Ida would like to thank all the rural routers at this time, for keeping their mail boxes free of snow and ice as it does make her job so much easier. She also told me of some who even go a step further and add the extra, honey touch such as Bickford's horse shoes; Hulbig's corn stalks; Verna Crego's trailing begonia and Al Spencer's chipmunks which actually hibernate in the winter and welcome her in the spring.

John Maguire spent a weekend in Toronto visiting his brothers. They attended a concert at Seneca College which they enjoyed very much.

Alice and Bill Pearson stopped by their home early Monday morning and departed again on their travels. They enjoyed Kentucky and Alabama even though the weather wasn't the greatest.

One of our mysteries recently, has been solved: The Easter bunny that left the eggs in Ida Young's truck has revealed himself. Rolf Stange is the "Happy Hopper".

Mr. Donald Lake of Don Mills, Ontario, was happy to have his son Donnie, home from California, for two week's vacation. They enjoy-

The turnout was good last Saturday at the Leslie Frost Natural Resources Centre near Dorset for the annual Maple Syrup Day. Besides the traditional iron kettle over an open fire method shown here, there is also a modern, wood fired evaporator using plastic feeder lines. No matter how its made though, maple syrup appeals to just about everyone's pallet and there was plenty of opportunity to taste it both at the sugar shack and at the centre.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

This week has seen the wind-up of winter sports. The figure skating club held a family night to mark the end of a successful season. The hard working executive members were pleased with the good enrolment. Through the efforts of popular instructor, Shelley Winters of Bancroft, many members were able to complete their tests and advance to the next stage of figure skating.

Minor hockey teams from Scarborough were welcomed to the Monmouth arena for the weekend of March 22 and 23. Teams taking part in this event were Bantams, Pee-wees and Atoms. Things were evened out when each group won three games. The Bantams who were the losers this time will have a chance to recoup on the return trip to Toronto sometime in April. Each player was given a medallion as a memento to mark the event. In the evening everyone celebrated with a dance at the Memorial Centre.

Curling also enjoyed a final game with competition keen to the end. Although membership has been down this winter for this popular game, those taking part saw some excellent sport through the season and will be back next winter with renewed enthusiasm for the roaring game.

The senior citizens have been busy working on a quilt that will be ready for raffle this fall. Mrs. Isobel Godfrey has kindly donated a lovely afghan that will be a future raffle prize. Members recently enjoyed a trip to Combermere where they were guests along with members from other senior citizen groups of other areas. On the 15th of April the Monmouth senior citizens will be entertaining neighbouring clubs. About 200 people are expected and a program is being planned to ensure that everyone has a fine time.

This coming weekend the annual maple syrup festival takes place in Wilberforce. Delicious pancakes and maple syrup will be served at the Memorial Centre from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tables will be set up to present a flea market. There are still a few tables available for rent; to obtain one of these, get in touch with Joanne Coumbs at 448-2475. They rent at $5.00. Over at the Monmouth arena, you will find some interesting displays at the Farm, Home and Garden Show. There is no admission charge for this event. There will be a dance in the hall in the evening. This is a great way to welcome in the spring. Meet your friends and neighbours and purchase a supply of maple syrup.

Another big event taking place on April 5 is the official opening of the new Bowes and Cocks business. The office is located in the former bank building adjoining the Agnew Red and White store. You are invited to drop in and get acquainted with the pleasant staff who will be handling the business of this well-known company. The interior has been re-designed and presents a warm and friendly atmosphere.

Carnarvon News

by Yvonne Penney

Spring has sprung, the grass has ris, I wonder where the birdies is.

Spring really has arrived this past week. Robins have been spotted, the sap is running and the smell of fresh maple syrup is in the air.

The migration of our winter southern vacationers has begun - Bert and Libby Harrison and Dot and Ben Corliss have returned to their homes here. Mr. and Mrs. Schuster of Maple Lake have also returned after spending the winter in Mexico.

A Good Friday service will be held at Zion United Church in Carnarvon on Friday, April 4 at 9:30 a.m. Come out and share in the Easter music and worship.

From the United Church Bulletin of Palm Sunday, March 30 - "Salvation is free

but it is not cheap."

There will be a pot luck supper at Maple Lake United Church on Saturday, April 19 from 5-7 p.m. Adults - $3.50; children under 12 - $2.50 and pre-schoolers - free. Mark this date on your calendar and enjoy a delicious dinner sponsored by the ladies' group of the church. I know from experience that all these ladies are terrific cooks.

Last Thursday evening, I attended the fashion show held at PineStone Inn. This show was certainly well attended and was very enjoyable.

Congratulations to Dianne Cowen of Maple Lake, Dianne skated in the Rotary Club Skate-a-thon on Friday night in Minden and had $250 in sponsors. Half of this amount goes to the Rotary Club and half to Maple Lake Church.

The Minden Pee-wee hockey team travelled to Baysville last Saturday to take part in a tournament there. The Minden boys came home the champions after beating Haliburton Pee-wee's in the final game.

Don't forget the dance at the Minden arena on Saturday, April 5 sponsored by Minden Minor Hockey. Tickets are $10 per couple and the music is by Ed Whiteway. A buffet will be served at midnight.

On Sunday, the Minden Figure Skating Club presented their ice show entitled "Dancing Through The Years". I thoroughly enjoyed this show and would congratulate the skaters for a job well done.

HIGHLANDS PLUMBING & HEATING

Minden, Ontario 286-1195

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

Our local young people have formed a new group and it is being called Norland Youth Association. President is Dwayne Angiers, vice-president, Robbi Landry, secretary, Karen Graham and the treasurer is Stephen Spencer. On Tuesday, April 8 a craft night has been planned for all ages of five years and up with admission .25 cents to help pay for supplies. It will take place in Women's Institute Hall (west of Highway 35 on south side of Highway 503) from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. with Della Howard and Anne Spencer assisting with this project. A dance will be held on Friday, April 11 from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. for youth, 10 years of age and older, in Norland Community Hall. Records will supply the music and admission is $1.50. Norland Youth Association is also asking all interested adults and children to an open meeting in the Women's Institute Hall on Tuesday, April 15 at 7:00 p.m. to get ideas and suggestions for future activities of the club. As you can read, the new association has been busy planning an interesting program and hope that the young people will participate and support it.

Former moderator of the United Church, Dr. Robert McClure was the guest speaker at the Lindsay Presbyterian United Church Women's annual meeting in Cambridge Street United Church, Lindsay on Tuesday, March 25. Over 230 ladies attended the morning business portion of the meeting and enjoyed the hot luncheon prepared and served by the Cambridge Street U.C.W. ladies. When Dr. McClure spoke in the afternoon, many others were also present to hear this outstanding missionary, physician and layman. Following his introduction by Mr. Munroe Scott, author of "The China Years" Dr. McClure thanked the group in attendance and all of the United Church people who had helped him by supporting through giving to missionary and service department while he was a missionary those many years in China, India and other countries. Although Dr. McClure is officially retired, he is a most sought-after and popular speaker who always leaves his listeners with many soul searching thoughts. He said that we North Americans have a negative, suspicious look on life, are cynical, skeptical and sometimes depressed while the people of the Third World live with the hope that things will get better for them. Never in recent times have we known the horror of invasion by hostile troops, living under military occupation or being refugees while these are common to most inhabitants of the Third World. The Christian message is simple - God is father of all men and God is a God of love. We must put the essence of Christian faith into the whole world today by feeding the hungry, supplying water for the thirsty and administering to the sick.

The last Rotary travelogue of the season is on Thursday, April 10 at 8:00 p.m. in the Academy Theatre, Lindsay. The country to be shown is Hawaii presented by Dennis Cooper and I'm sure that it will prove to be one of the most popular. Although I have been fortunate enough to visit this enchanting state, I am looking forward to seeing Mr. Cooper's pictures and hearing his comments on Hawaii. He, no doubt, visited and took pictures of parts of the islands that I missed.

Norland Firefighters' Association hockey pool winner on Saturday, March 22 was John Magee. This group is again selling draw tickets at $1 each on a prize of $1,000 bill - the proceeds will be used to assist them with various projects. Tickets are available from any Norland fireman, at Red and White store or at township office. With today's high prices, everyone could use an extra thousand dollars - buy a ticket and try your luck. Last year's winner was Mrs. Violet Greer.

Saturday, April 19 is the date of the next dance sponsored by ladies auxiliary of the firemen in Norland Community Hall from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Joan Purvis and her group, Balck Gold, will be there to supply the music for dancing, bar will be licensed under L.L.B.O., refreshments included with your admission ticket of $4 each. Advance tickets may be purchased by calling Jean Boyce 454-8017. With more warm weather and sunshine and less rain, it is to be hoped that the road into the waste disposal site will improve shortly. The one road that was being used near the site has been closed off and another one is now being used. Prior to this, there were several complaints of deep mud, and poor road conditions at the township dump. Under no circumstances throw your garbage containers at the gate near Highway 503. Let's all try to keep the area as tidy as possible.

Deadline for Norland bowling club banquet reservations is April 15. The dinner and dance will be held in Kinmount Legion hall on Saturday, April 26 with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $8 each and include dancing to the music of Gary Peters and Wildwood Group. Dance only is $4.00. To book your reservation call Marj Lee (454-8176) or Della Howard (454-3206).

This past Wednesday was my first time to help prepare the "meals on wheels" in the Cobocok Community Hall kitchen. We prepared dinners for 15 people since one of the recipients was away. Two of us spent from 9:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. in the kitchen preparing the hot meals, waiting for them to cook and cleaning up afterwards. Valerie Shepherd has everything well organized and assists with the special diets and packing the food in the carrying containers. Other volunteers deliver the meals and more are still needed. If you have a car and can spare about half an hour (11:30 to 12:00 noon) once a month to assist, please call Valerie Shepherd (454-3744). She would be most happy to hear from you and you would be helping in the community.

A joyous Easter to you and yours.

Elsie and Eldon Sibley went to Toronto to meet Linda but unfortunately she was not able to come home because she had to see a doctor there and possibly go to hospital. We are hoping it is nothing serious and that she will be able to return to her home very soon. At least she is back in Canada.

Vera Riel made a business trip to Lindsay. Blair went with her but stayed over for a day and Ray Riel brought him home on Sunday and had a visit with his parents.

Congratulations to Gwen Kennedy. She was fortunate to win half the jackpot at the Haliburton Legion on Wednesday night last.

Ron and Erma Dack and family attended the wedding of Erma's sister, Judy Bird last weekend.

Glad to hear that Steven Foster is home from hospital in Peterborough.

Tips on planning a flower garden

by Irene Moore

It always pays to do a little planning before tackling a big job. The garden can become too much work and too little fun without careful planning.

With seeds on display in all the stores, most people like to try and start their own. Determine what types of plants are required, annuals, or perennials, alone or in a combination. Beginners are advised to start modestly - Don't plan too large. Additional area can be developed the following year if necessary.

To avoid problems and disappointments, select plants suitable to the location of the chosen site. Plants such as zinnia, celosia, arabis and cerastium are adapted to hot dry conditions and should not be planted in a shady location. Arrange plants according to their height. A border

"Nowadays people can be divided into three classes - the Haves, the Have-Nots, and the Have-Not-Paid-For-What-They-Haves."

The school break is over and the children are back to school and out of mother's hair. There is still the long Easter weekend to look forward to.

David and Peter Edwards of Milton spent the holiday week at the rectory. They came up for a skiing holiday but the weather didn't co-operate. The boys acted as servers for the Sunday service. Their parents, Jean and Bob came for the weekend to take the boys home.

The Dorset Brownie pack visited with Mrs. Elsie Burk one evening last week and entertained her and she in turn entertained them with cookies and hot chocolate and tales of old times. A pleasant evening for all.

The Dorset elementary school has had a reprieve. The Haliburton Board of Education has made the decision to have the school remain open until the end of the school year in June 1981 at which time the situation will be re-assessed.

The Pathfinders and L.A. had a beautiful day for their bake sale and sold lots of goodies. It was held in Robinson's store on Saturday.

The Anglican ladies are looking for some nice clean rummage for a spring sale. If you have anything to contribute please call 766-2237 and we will either pick it up or meet you at the church as the church is now being kept locked.

I think everyone in the community is incensed about the tremendous increase in rates that the Bell is attempting to introduce. Many letters of protest have been sent in and we can only hope they will do some good.

I've heard there's lot of robins around but I heard my first one this morning and it was music to my ears.

Miss Laura Gaunt and Mrs. Gladys Anderson attended the Deaneys for the A.C.W. presidents at Bobcaygeon, on March 27 to decide on a spring meeting which will be held May 21 at St. James Parish in Fenelon Falls.

There was a good turnout of seven tables for euchre at the church in Kinmount on Thursday night. Sorry I did not get the results.

Don't, I repeat - do not, throw away those cigarette packages we've talked so much about. I'm chasing down another lead and this one, so far, does look promising. More about that later.

What a gorgeous morning this is on this March 28. Now if we can sneak through without having any more snow fall on us, we've got it made.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

What does Easter mean to you when spring is in the air? Just another holiday a secular affair? - or do you feel that these indeed are high and holy days - in which to draw apart from earthly things and wordly ways - to contemplate in silence the amazing spectacle - of the trial, the cross, the tomb and then the miracle. Let this be your joy, your Easter song, your second birth: to discover him who is the Lord of all the earth - beyond the power of tongue to tell or skill of pen to write - your marvellous awakening to hope and life and light (Patience Strong).

The draw was made, Sunday afternoon, on the afghan and rug donated to the library cultural centre and the lucky winner of the afghan was Mrs. Verna McDonald with ticket no. 602 while Mrs. Marnie Robinson won the rug with ticket no. 628.

Mrs. Maude Coulter and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Barry spent Thursday in Peterborough.

One thing about inflation - you get to live in a more expensive neighbourhood without even moving!

Don't forget that the minor hockey are still selling tickets on the afghan donated by Lil Gorveatt and the draw will be made at the hockey banquet in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Lonsberry are vacationing in California for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Brydson and family of Bracebridge Mike Bird of Peterborough and Miss Laura Bird of Toronto spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bird and all attended the wedding of Judy Bird and Mark Taylor in Haliburton, Saturday evening.

Grandmother's Tarts - 1 egg; 1 cup brown sugar; 3 tablespoons vinegar; 1 large tablespoon butter; 1 teaspoon vanilla. If desired, add 1/4 cup each of nut meats, raisins or coconut, this is what makes them good. Mix all ingredients together and put in unbaked tart shells. Bake at 400 degrees 12 - 15 minutes.

Bradley Robinson of London spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson.

Winners at last week's mini card party were: cribbage - Verna McDonald and Vera Wood; euchre - lone hand - Pearl Cowen; Marg McAfee and Della Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dawkins and Beverley of Rexdale spent the weekend at their cottage.

Miss Jodi Campbell of Toronto was home for the weekend.

Mrs. Bill King has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Andy England in Barrie.

Mr. Gerald Coulter of Toronto spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter.

Chinese Proverb - If you wish to be happy for a few hours, drink wine until your head spins - If you wish to be happy for a few days; get married and hide away; If you wish to be happy for a week, roast a tender pig and have a feast; But if you wish to be happy all your life, become a gardener.

The Garden of the Glory Every Easter brings its Calvary, Christ the Saviour, slain for all to see - But this is not the ending of the story - It leads us to the Garden of the Glory - where he in manner strange and wonderful - performed for us his greatest miracle. Patience Strong Hoping this Easter weekend is good to you all. Adios and take care now.

Now that winter break is over, everyone is looking forward to the end of the mud, and finally some sunshine and soon perhaps green grass, flowers, and trees in bud. It's gung-ho to the end of the school year and the end of another Kinette year.

The March 18 Kinsmen meeting, to which wives and Kinettes were invited, proved to be a most interesting and provocative evening. The theme of the meeting was "C.F. Night" and the very special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prime and their two children, Stephen and Tina. They were introduced by Zone "C" C.F. chairman, Larry Amyotte who was also in attendance.

Kinsmen Clubs of Canada have been supporting the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation since the 1960's and have found it to be a most rewarding experience. There is an old saying, "A picture is worth a thousand words," but definitely, even a picture or a film cannot compare to the real thing. Tina Prime is a young girl who has Cystic Fibrosis, and like a real trooper, she very capably showed us all the routine she goes through every day. Twenty-six Kin people were spell-bound and attentive listeners, as the Prime family took us through their personal experiences since Tina was born seven years ago. All the facts and figures concerning their particular case were conveyed to us in an excellent presentation, which prompted some thought provoking questions, and all of them were answered. For those of us who attended the meeting, the events, facts and figures, and the demonstration provided us all with a much better understanding of just what Cystic Fibrosis can mean in a family situation. It is hoped that through further Kinsmen and public support of the Cystic Fibrosis foundation, this childhood affliction can be cured and eradicated altogether. Many thanks to Kin Clark Bailey of the Haliburton Kinsmen Club for his efforts in having the Prime family in attendance at the Kinsmen C.F. Night meeting. Kin Clark is the C.F. chairman for the Haliburton Kinsmen Club.

We are nearly into April and nomination meetings for next year's executives are just around the corner. As was pointed out in the last column, the new Zone "C", executive has been chosen. Kin Dave Upton, of the Cobourg Kinsmen, is the Deputy Governor and Kinette Florence O'Grady, of the Cobourg Kinette Club, is the Kinette Co-ordinator for the 1980-81 season. Our own Kin Pat Kennedy will be the C.F. chairman on the same Zone "C" executive. Congratulations Kin Pat and all the new executive at zone level. Kin Bruce Glass, of the Lindsay Kinsmen Club, is running for the office of National Vice President and we all wish him much good luck.

The next general meeting of the Haliburton Kinette Club will be held on Wednesday, April 9, (the second Wednesday for this month only) at 7:30 p.m. at the Beaconbrook Hotel Dining room. Supper is buffet style. Our guest for the evening will be Mrs. Mary Smith of Peterborough, our present Zone "C" Kinette Co-ordinator. Bad weather in March prevented her visiting our club for the March meeting, and we hope mother nature will co-operate with us this time. Also, hopefully, we will have present at this meeting, the Haliburton Kinsmen Club wives and other invited guests.

Reminder of up-coming events include the annual Home Show on the weekend of June 20 to 22. Kin Jim Tice is the chairman for this year and it promises to be an excellent show. More details as they become available. Installation of the new executive for 1980-81 for the Haliburton Kinsmen and Kinette Clubs will be held on June 24. Time and place for this event will be announced at a later date.

Another event in June to be held in Niagara Falls on the weekend of the 13 to 15 is the District 8 Convention, this year being sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Bowmanville. "Whirlpool Whoopie" promises to be a gala event and hopefully some of the Haliburton Kin people can attend.

July, really is not that far away and it conjures up thoughts of the annual Kinsmen family picnic. Last year's event turned out to be such a successful "Camp Out" that the suggestion was to carry it forward to this year. Dates and times for this family get-together are yet to be decided, so more details on this as they become available.

Till next time, good Kinship.

Coboconk News

On Saturday, March 22 at the Minden arena, the Coboconk Vicky Islanders won the championship trophy at the Kinsmount Men's Industrial League tournament. There were four teams in the tournament with Kinsmount defeating Irondale 7 - 6. The Vicky Islanders defeated the Ormell Aggregates 6 - 3 in a good hard-fought game. The Ormell Aggregates then defeated Irondale for the consolation and the Islanders won the championship over Kinsmount 9 - 2.

Our sympathy to Mrs. Sanford Richman in the passing of her brother, George Sykes. Mr. Sykes was in his 87th year and had been living in Brantford until he took ill and passed away in hospital at Paris. Mr. Sykes is well-known to older residents of Coboconk.

The three grandchildren of the Ross Faulkners spent the weekend in Peterborough at their home. They have lived here since their young mom took ill last August and had to have spinal surgery. Gwen has been transferred to Peterborough hospital and can now spend the weekends at her home with her family.

Ben and Ethel Farrow are off on a holiday with daughter, Barb and Bill Traviss at Moosemin, Sask.

Ordinary rubbing alcohol, applied with a piece of urethane foam, will remove dust, dirt and fingerprints from photograph records.

Very soon, the Girl Guides and Brownies will be staging a one night blitz to sell their cookies. In years past, the girls would take orders, but when a large amount are sold and mothers must transport the girls by car, it is an extra expense and besides, often those who ordered the cookies were out when the girls called to deliver them. Having the cookies with them for instant delivery is a good idea and certainly saves gas and time. So welcome a Brownie or Guide when they call and buy their goodies.

The Bell Telephone have been working most of the week on Baseline Road, installing new poles and lines. I wonder if that will improve their good (?) service? I tried several times to find help in getting a Toronto number through information. I'd either get a busy signal or a recording telling me about the operator's strike! It was absolutely useless to try and reach information. The higher the wages, the poorer the service.

Mrs. Irene Angiers is home again after so much time in Ross Memorial hospital. Be good, Rene, and stay home and don't go off to hospital again.

Alf Zealand and Walter Marles of Lindsay, were weekend visitors of Walter's mom, Annie Marles.

Farm News and Views

Several new "tools" for beef producers were discussed at meetings in the area last week.

Over 50 cattlemen from Peterborough and Victoria Counties attended the beef bull day program held at Wib Donaldson and Larry Leahy's farms. One of the new ideas discussed that day was scrotal circumference of a bull has been found to be an indication of his breeding ability.

The minimum circumference suggested for a year-old bull is 30 centimetres. This minimum increases to 32 cm. for a bull 24 months old, and 33 cm. for a bull over 30 months of age.

Since about one out of every five beef bulls is infertile, this scrotal measurement could be an aid in identifying some of these bulls earlier.

A frame score for beef cattle was discussed at both the bull day and at the United Breeders information meeting. This score is a measure of the height of an animal, related to its age. The height is measured at either the shoulder or hip.

The average frame score for British breeds is 3. This gives a height of 43 inches at 12 months of age, increasing to 46 inches at 18 months, and 47.5 inches at 24 months.

Animals of a Continental breed have an average frame score of 5. Their height would be 47 inches at 12 months, 50 inches at 18 months, and just over 51 inches by 24 months of age.

When cattle reach 24 months of age, they have essentially stopped growing taller.

By knowing the average frame score of your herd of beef cows, you can then select a bull with a frame score which is one or two points at most, higher. This will improve the height of your calf crop, but not run the risk of having serious calving difficulties.

The use of prostaglandin for synchronized breeding, was another tool for the beef producer, discussed at the United Breeder's meeting. Prostaglandin is the natural hormone which cows secrete to cause ovulation. By injecting a small amount of the hormone into a cow, you can "short circuit" her natural cycle and bring her into heat.

This treatment of a number of beef cows, will bring them to breeding at the same time. This then makes it easy to breed these cows using artificial insemination.

The major drawback for using artificial insemination in beef herds has been heat detection. The development of prostaglandin has helped overcome this problem. With the high cost of keeping their own bull today, many beef producers are seriously considering using this new tool.

Principal's Newsletter

by Brian Mosgrove

The three previous articles in this series addressed three areas of post secondary education - namely, Apprenticeships, Colleges of Applied Arts and Technology, and Universities. What about those students leaving high school and directly entering the work force?

Excellent materials are available at the Guidance Office in the high school and at the Canada Manpower Outreach Centre in Haliburton. The office of the centre is located above the Red and White store and the telephone number is 457-1316. The counsellor co-ordinator is Mrs. Jane Heppelston.

Among the pamphlets available are "Finding a Summer Job", issued by Employment and Immigration Canada and "The Job of Looking for a Job - How to Handle it Like a Pro", published by the Ontario Youth Secretariat. These publications give detailed and sound advice on: how to find out where the jobs are, resumes, letters of application, job interviews and a host of tips to increase your possibilities of getting and keeping the type of employment you want.

Another booklet that is filled with useful information to help young people cope with the real world is available from the Guidance Office. It is entitled "What You Need to Know When You Leave School" and deals with: Social Insurance Number, OHIP Coverage, Income Tax, Drivers' Licences, Unemployment Insurance, other types of insurance and rights and responsibilities with respect to the legal age.

I strongly recommend that senior students embarking into the world of work consult any and all reliable sources of information available to them. The job market is not what it used to be, but qualified young people who are willing to work and who know how to seek employment always seem to get a job.

The next and final newsletter in this series for the current school year will appear on Wednesday, April 16 and will deal with an important social issue - Marijuana.

Minden recreation committee approves skating club grant

At the March meeting of the Minden Recreation Committee last Tuesday, the following matters were considered:

Wm. Everson and B. Sisson were authorized to attend the O.M.R.A. convention and the registration fee of $170 was approved for payment.

The secretary-treasurer was authorized to pay the 1980 interim tax bill in the amount of $56.40 representing commercial assessment on the concession booth.

A grant was approved in the amount of $260 to the Minden Figure Skating Club, representing proof of registered skaters for the 1979/80 season.

The committee reviewed the rental rates sheet and made the following amendments: Auditorium - hourly day rate for first two hours reduced to $25 per hour; $20 per hour shall apply for night rates after 2:30 a.m.

The committee accepted or bed, viewed from one side, should have the tallest plants in the background. Intermediate height plants in the central portion of the bed and the shortest plants in the foreground.

Colour is a matter of personal taste - response to colour is based on what one perceives and interprets.

A novice gardener can avoid difficulties by using basic principals in colour arrangement. Colour selection and use should relate to the total surroundings, creating a harmonious effect.

Galway-Cavendish council meets

At the March meeting of Galway-Cavendish council, the following matters were considered:

Ivor James, Commissioner, and Stuart McElrea from the Regional Assessment Office attended the meeting to discuss Section 86 (Equalized Assessment) with council and explain the procedure employed by their office to evaluate the impact of equalized assessment by property category. A preliminary study was presented to council showing how property assessments are up-dated and the potential impact of same. James informed council that one further study would be required before a decision is required with regard to whether or not Equalized Assessment (Section 86) will be implemented. The following resolution was passed.

The Minister of Revenue was requested to proceed with the next phase "Impact Study" with regard to Equalized Assessment under Section "86" of the Assessment Act for the Municipality of Galway and Cavendish. A copy of this resolution was directed to the Honourable L. Macack and Mr. I. James, Regional Assessment Commissioner, Lindsay, Ontario.

Applications for building inspector were opened at 12:10 p.m. Applications for the position of building inspector were received from the following: James Pennington, 51 Trailridge Cres. P.H. 10 West Hill, Keith Payne, Box 983, Lakefield, Ontario, Ernest Hill, R.R. #1, Kinmount, Ontario. Applications will be evaluated/interviewed and a decision made as to the successful applicant at the April 2, 1980 council meeting.

Mr. Martel and Mr. Setya, representatives from Greer Galloway & Associates, attended the meeting for the opening of the Gold Lake Bridge tenders.

The tenders received for construction of the Gold Lake Bridge were opened at 1:40 p.m. Tenders were received as follows: John Gaffney Construction, Stratford, Ontario - $154,704.15; Looby Builders Limited, Dublin, Ontario - $152,283.; R.T.G. Construction Limited, Omeene, Ontario - $164,881.

The three tenders were referred to Greer Galloway and Associates for their analysis/evaluation. Greer Galloway will submit their recommendations to the Roads Committee on or before March 25, 1980.

Mr. W.H. Huels, one of the township's representatives on the North Kawartha Planning Board, attended the meeting to discuss with council a letter directed to the reeve from the cottage associations - (Carchocoma, McGinnis, Beaver and Mississauga) expressing their opposition to Ministry of Natural Resources intent to issue a lease covering lands situated on part Lots 19 - 23, Concessions 3 and 4, Cavendish for the purpose of developing a Vermiculite Mine.

The reeve and one of the municipality's planning board representatives was authorized to represent the municipality in discussions with the Minister of Natural Resources with regard to the proposed vermiculite mine lease on Lots 19 to 23, Concessions 3 and 4, Cavendish.

The clerk was authorized to prepare a by-law to rezone part Lot 14, Concession 4, Cavendish as referred to in the application submitted by Bell Canada to allow construction of an unmanned switching unit.

The clerk was authorized to prepare a by-law to rezone part of Lot 33, Concession 18, Galway for Fair, Thomson, Thomson and Charters from rural (RU) to recreation residential (RR) as defined in their application.

Deputy-reeve Chambers was granted a leave of absence from regular council meetings.

The resolution from the City of Toronto regarding the Quebec White Paper on sovereign association was tabled.

The resolution from Regional Municipality of Ottawa-

Carleton: re "Symbolic Traffic Signs Public Education" was tabled.

A by-law to amend By-law 78-43 was passed. This by-law is to amend the lands on Lot 17, Concession 5, Cavendish.

A by-law to amend By-law 79-32 was passed. This by-law is to amend the lands on Concession A, south half of Lot 9, Galway.

The reeve was authorized to attend the planning seminar sponsored by Peterborgood advertising and promotion effort. It is an area where almost all of us could certainly use some help and we urge you to attend. Cost is only $30 (including lunch) and you may register by contacting the F.B.D.B. office in Peterborough at 1-748-3241.

After supper and beginning at 7:30 p.m. the Chamber will host an open meeting at the same location, featuring Mr. Mike Filey of Canada Wonderland. He will provide details complete with films of the 108 Million Dollar "Disneyland of the North" now under construction at Maple. If you think Maple is too far away to have an impact, consider for a moment how every tourist region in the entire state of Florida has related to the establishment of Disneyland there. It certainly will have an impact - how much depends on how we go about preparing for it.

There is no admission charge to this meeting. We noted last week that a fashion show at the PineStone drew a packed house with cars parked all the way out to the highway. It will be interesting to see if a meeting as important as this can attract as many interested business people as new fashions can.

Post Cards

Last year the Chamber embarked on a program to obtain more variety of good local scenes in post cards to be made available to local businesses. The plan, unfortunately, was implemented too late for delivery of cards for last summer, but this year we are ready. At least ten local scenes will be available and will be sold in quantities of 200 of each scene. While these cards are being printed we can also provide any member who wishes to have their own specific cards printed in a quantity of 2,500, an opportunity to do so at a very reasonable cost.

Details of this are now being sent to all members in a newsletter. Watch for it.

ough County to be held March 24 at Rock Haven and the registration fee of $13 was paid.

Minutes of the Galway Cavendish Culture and Recreation Committee meeting of February 28, 1980 were accepted.

Barb Windover and Bob Plug were appointed to the Culture and Recreation Committee, effective immediately.

with their term of office to expire December, 1981.

The feasibility study and Greer Galloway's report on the safety of the existing hall were referred to the Culture and Recreation Committee for their recommendations.

The building inspector was authorized to issue a building permit to Mr. Wiker, Lot 25, Concession 10, Galway to allow him to construct a sundeck on his property.
